RAILROAD STRIKE MAY BE AVERTED

EARLY START ESSENTIAL ON BIG AIR FORCE

GOAL OF 70 GROUPS WON'T BE REACHED UNTIL 1952

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 8. (AP)—Here's an ABC on the 70-group Air Force, what it means, will mean, and why.

A group can be any number of planes, depending on their size. A group of heavy bombers will have fewer planes than a group of small fighters.

The Air Force now has 55 groups. Congress this week approved an increase to 70.

That doesn't mean we'd have the 70 groups next week or next year. We wouldn't be up to 70 groups before 1952.

Civilians Make Study

Last year President Truman appointed five civilians to study this country's future air problems.

In January, 1948, this five-man group, called the president's air policy commission, made a report called "Survival in the Air Age."

Among other things, the commission told the president:

An enemy nation — no one doubts Russia was meant—may have a lot of atomic bombs by 1953, enough to start a war.

If such a nation attacks us, the attack may be sudden. To be prepared we need a stronger Air Force than we have now. How strong?

At least 70 groups by 1952, said the commission. To get that, we must start building up the Air Force now. Why?

Because, first, contracts for building the planes must be given to the manufacturers so they'll know how to plan production. Expanding the plants to make the planes takes time. There's no time to lose.

If the planemakers can build planes between now and 1952, they'll be all set with the machinery to turn out planes fast if we're attacked after 1952.

Congress Agrees

Backed by the commission's recommendation, W. Stuart Symington, secretary for air, told Congress we need a 70-group Air Force.

Mr. Truman didn't think we needed that many so soon. Neither did Secretary of Defense Forrestal. Forrestal said maybe a 66-group force would be all right.

But Congress agreed with Symington and approved a 70 group Air Force. The bill passed by Congress probably will reach Mr. Truman next week. He is expected to sign it into law.

Then the Air Force can start or-

President Misses Good Fish Fry At Bay City Banquet

Bay City, Mich., May 8 (AP)—President Truman missed a good fish fry Friday night.

The Bay City Fraternal Order of Police put it on and Officer Alvin Bridges delivered an invitation to the White House by telephone. He got as far as Charles Ross, presidential press secretary.

"I'd like to have Mr. Truman come to our fish fry in Bay City," he told Ross. "It's going to be a good party and we're having some A-1 fish.

But Mr. Truman was "not at home," Bridges was informed.

KOREAN ELECTION MAY LAUNCH CIVIL WAR — Following the critical May 10 election in southern Korea, the U. S. will gradually withdraw its troops, ending occupation of this eastern hot-spot some time this year. With U. S. withdrawal, civil war is feared between Red-backed north and anti-Communist south. Map shows how Korea is divided. South Korea will elect 200-member national assembly, which will write constitution and set up democratic government. First president is expected to be Princeton and Harvard-educated Dr. Syngman Rhee, right, well-known to Americans as a life-long fighter for Korean independence.

RED TERRORISM FELT IN SEOUL

Russia Tries To Force Hand Of America

BY ROY ROBERTS

Seoul, May 8 (AP)—Russia moved today to force the American hand in Korea as pre-election Red terrorism hit Seoul, national capital and headquarters of the American zone, for the first time.

Lt. Gen. G. P. Korotkov, Soviet commander of North Korea announced "arrangements have been" made for the immediate withdrawal of his troops to "make American troops withdraw from Korea simultaneously."

Communist inspired terrorism has been going on in southeast Korea and Oncheju island since February in an effort to hinder election plans in the American zone and to prevent its being held in an atmosphere of freedom.

The election will be held Monday in South Korea.

Even today new acts of violence cropped out in South Korea. One election official was shot to death in Seoul and a building housing three newspapers was burned in the first such acts of terrorism in the capital.

So far almost 400 Koreans have been killed in the south. Of these 15 were election officials. Forty-six other election workers have been wounded.

Egyptian Volunteers Invade Holy Land To Back Up Arabs

Cairo, May 8, (AP)—A communique issued today by "Command Volunteers, Southern Front Palestine" said Egyptian volunteers have penetrated about 30 miles into the Holy Land.

The communique said:

"Our forces penetrated the frontiers and held their posts without casualties.

"Some forces rushed to the northern part of the front to help the Arabs repulsing a Jewish attack on IGAQ Suweidan, some 50 kilometers north of the Egyptian border town of Rafa. This help was successful.

"The people of Palestine received our troops enthusiastically and shouted for Arabism, Egypt and King Farouk."

(The status of the Egyptian volunteer force was not immediately clear. Volunteers from other Arab countries have been in Palestine for some time.

Marquette Medical School Bequeathed $175,000 By Widow

Milwaukee, May 8 (AP)—Mrs. Eben J. Carey, widow of the former dean of the Marquette university medical school, left the bulk of her $175,000 to the school, according to her will filed for probate yesterday.

The bequest provides for a memorial library at the school. Mrs. Carey died April 30. Her husband died June 5, 1947.

Truce Promised For Jerusalem; Korea Seething

(By The Associated Press)

Jerusalem, May 8. (AP)—Jerusalem's cease-fire, agreed to by both Arabs and Jews to allow negotiations for a permanent truce in the Holy City, went into effect today. In the first hour, not a shot was heard.

Both Jews and Arabs have promised to halt the shooting in Jerusalem today, but pessimism over solution of the Palestine problem prevails at United Natons headquarters.

Only a week remains before Britain lays down her mandate. No substitute regime has been agreed upon. Arthur Creech Jones, British Colonial Secretary, last night called for a small, emergency U. N. agency to safeguard ordinary life after the British leave.

In an apparent move to force the American hand in Korea on the eve of elections Monday in the southern U. S. zone, the Russian commander in northern Korea announced that "arrangements have been made" for the immediate withdrawal of his troops to "make American troops withdraw simultaneously." No date for the Russian withdrawal was fixed.

New violence was reported in South Korea. An election official was shot to death in Seoul, Korean capital. A building housing two newspapers was burned.

At Washington the House Armed Services committee asserted its belief the "Soviet Union may now be willing to risk a showdown" with the United States and said the U. S. should strengthen its ground and sea forces with a manpower draft.

U Saw, pre-war Burmese premier, and five of his henchmen were hanged in Rangoon for the machinegun assassinations of seven cabinet ministers last July 19.

The Greek cabinet was reshuffled to meet criticisms of government inefficiency, which reached a peak after the assassination of Justice Minister Christos Ladas last week. The coalition of Liberals and Populists was preserved.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's cabinet announced approval of an agreement with the U. S., Britain and France on disposition of former German private assets in Spain.

The first post war Italian parliament was organized. It will elect a president of the Republic Monday. Giovanni Gronchi, a Christian Democrat, was chosen to head the Chamber of Deputies. Former Premier Ivanoe Bonomi leads the Senate.

LUXURY TRAINS COLLIDE IN FOG

Miami-To-Chicago Arrow Hit By Hummingbird

Montgomery, Ala., May 8 (AP)—The Hummingbird, Louisville & Nashville streamliner, ran headon into another luxury train in a dense fog 20 miles north of here early today.

Several persons were injured but only three required hospitalization. The others were given first aid treatment at the scene.

The second train, the Miami to Chicago Florida Arrow, was standing still when the collision occurred. A trainman said the Hummingbird missed a signal in the fog and failed to take a siding.

The engines of both trains, and two cars of the Hummingbird and one of the Arrow, were derailed, but none overturned. The Hummingbird was southbound from Cincinnati to New Orleans. After a delay of about four hours both trains continued their runs behind new engines.

The wreck did not block traffic. Other trains by-passed it on a siding.

Train Kills Three On Milwaukee Road

Sun Prairie, Wis., May 8, (AP)—Two 20-year old girls and a 19 year old youth bound for a dance were killed last night when their car was struck by a westbound Milwaukee road train.

The victims were identified as Dorothy McDonald and her brother, William K., and Margaret Krueger, all of De Forest, about eight miles west of this Dane county town.

Deputy District Attorney George Rapp said witnesses reported the car was traveling about only five to ten miles an hour. It was tossed 64 feet by the locomotive.

AMERICAN AID PLEDGE GIVEN BY 11 NATIONS

EUROPEAN GROUP TO COOPERATE IN RECOVERY

Washington, May 8 (AP) —The United States announced today an exchange of notes with 11 Marshall Plan countries, pledging them to cooperate in the recovery program.

The notes are forerunners of formal recovery agreements between the United States and each of the Marshall Plan countries.

In general they pledge the nations receiving American help to these three points:

1. Each country agrees to live up to the purposes of the recovery act with the understanding that if it does not do so American aid will be cut off.

2. Each country specifically declares it is already engaged in continuous efforts to make a success of the joint European recovery program.

3. Each country promises that it will set aside in its currency sums "commensurate" with the dollar value of free American aid. The deposits are to be available for administration of American aid missions abroad and for any other purposes on which the United States and the receiving country agree.

In the joint announcement by state department and the economic cooperation administration, it was stated that 11 member nations of the organization for European economic cooperation have exchanged notes with the United States.

The 11 are Britain, France, Sweden, Austria, Denmark, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands and Norway.

Mercury Tumbles To Below Freezing

Lansing reported snow at 4:30 a. m. (EDT) and Ypsilanti had a light snow at the same time. It lasted about 15 minutes.

Frost was forecast for tonight. However, the United States Weather Bureau said Sunday should be generally fair.

Among last night's lows were 28 at Calumet, 29 at Battle Creek, 30 at Grand Rapids and Cadillac, 32 at Marquette, 32 at Lansing and 33 at Traverse City and Alpena.

FILER CITY HAS PULPWOOD FIRE

Community Menaced By Smouldering Embers

Filer City, Mich., May 8 (AP)—Firemen and conservation officers kept a close watch today on the smouldering embers of a pulpwood fire that had threatened this little community.

State police at the Manistee post just north of here reported the flames were brought under control about 10 p. m. (EST) six hours after the fire broke out at the American Pulp and Paper Co. yards.

One large pile of pulpwood continued to burn hours later, but firemen stood by. They brought a large crane and shovel to the scene and used it to knock down 2,000 to 4,000 cords of wood. That brought the flames into the open where they could be extinguished.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Eleven pieces of equipment from five neighboring communities were rushed in to aid local fire fighters when state troops radioed for help. Joining in the battle were fire companies from Manistee, Cadillac, Kaleva, Ludington and Frankfort.

Filer City's 320 residents had been warned during the height of the blaze that a sudden shift of a stiff wind might endanger their homes. Many had their belongings ready to move. But the wind continued favorable and the flames were brought under control.

None of the Pulpwood company buildings was burned. About 5,000 cords of wood were destroyed and a $1,000,000 stock endangered.

Labor Scraps Big Menace In U. S. Industry

(By The Associated Press)

Major developments today in the nation's top labor disputes:

Railroads (negotiations)—A 20-day postponement of Tuesday's scheduled nationwide railroad strike reportedly was going to be asked by the White House today. New peace talks aimed to head off the walkout of three unions, which would paralyze the country's 225,000 mile rail system, were called by top White House advisers. Hopes faded of settling the wage dispute without resorting to government seizure.

Railroads (effects)—All segments of industry and business would feel the impact of the threatened strike, with damages expected to mount into the millions. The walkout would make idle millions of workers in scores of industries. Carriers have issued embargo orders on handling of any new shipments of perishables, poultry or livestock, with about 60 roads to have them in effect over the weekend. Airplane and bus companies plan extra service to handle the overflow rush of passenger and freight business.

Meat—CIO packinghouse workers in nine cities have set strike dates to join 100,000 CIO meat workers on strike for eight weeks. Government efforts to have union and four major packers resume wage negotiations in Chicago today appeared to have failed. Two packers said they would not attend the meetings and the other two said they were not invited. New strikes of stockhandlers were called in Chicago next Tuesday and in six other major livestock centers next Friday. A strike date also was set for next Tuesday by packinghouse workers in two Iowa cities.

Autos—Federal conciliators continued their efforts to head off the threatened strike next Wednesday of 75,000 CIO United Auto Workers at 16 Chrysler Corp. plants. The union broke off negotiations with the company on its demand for a 30-cents hourly wage increase.

BLACK MAY RUN AGAINST SIGLER

Dr. Keyes Seen As Dark Man In Woodpile

By JACK I. GREEN

Lansing, May 8 (AP)—With Attorney General Eugene F. Black on the war path, this year's contest for governor just possibly could be one of the hottest campaigns in years.

Black, storm center of the Sigler administration for 18 months, insists he is not a candidate for governor, but he gives all the signs of itching to make the race.

Politicians, who love a complicated situation, smack their lips over the possibility that Black might, in the end, be needled into the primary race against Governor Sigler.

The Ethiopian in the lumber yard, they think, is Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, the Lieutenant Governor, who wants to be governor and would like to unseat Sigler if he thought he could get away with it.

Thus, the politicians speculate: what would happen if Black comes out against Sigler and then Keyes pitches in, also.

That the governor himself fears just such an eventuality is hinted by some of his recent actions. He has leaned over backwards to keep Black in line—and usually Sigler shilly-shallies with no one, and the governor has been publicly tossing scented bouquets toward former Gov. Alex J. Grosebeck.

Black is regarded in the capitol as a close associate of Groesbeck, who once campaigned for Sigler and new reportedly dislikes him.

In his sensational tongue-lashing of the Legislature on its closing night and again in a radio address last weekend, Sigler hung garlands of praise around the neck of frosty Groesbeck. A logi-

Bohn Plant Leased To Kaiser-Frazer

Washington, May 8 (AP) — The Bohn Aluminum and Brass plant at Adrian, Mich., has been leased to the Kaiser-Frazer Sales Corp., for use as a warehouse, the war assets administration said today.

The lease runs to Dec. 31, 1951, at an annual rental of $190,000, and contains an option for renewal, the agecy said.

War assets said that the plant was leased under a security clause providing space for storage of government machinery and equipment and requiring it be kept in condition to be put back in operation in 120 days.

White House Tries To Head Off Walkout

Washington, May 8 (AP)—The White House renewed its effort today to avert the nationwide railroad strike set for Tuesday morning. Railroad operators were called to meet with presidential assistant John R. Steelman and there was a "possibility" that union leaders might be summoned later.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters:

"The President remains always hopeful that a settlement can be reached."

Spokesmen Summoned

He denied reports that President Truman now plans to ask a 20-day strike postponement, and said he could not comment on whether Steelman has any specific settlement proposal to make.

Four spokesmen for the railcarriers had a mid-day engagement with Steelman, Mr. Truman's labor trouble shooter. They are Daniel P. Loomis, H. A. Enochs and C. D. Mackay, chairman of the Western, Eastern and Southeastern Carriers' Conference committees respectively; and W. T. Faricy, President of the Association of American Railroads.

Ross said he could not discuss this conference in detail.

"We are trying to serve the public interest and evert this strike," He said. "We can't conduct parleys like this in a gold fish bowl."

The White House spokesman said he does not know whether Steelman might keep the negotiations going through tomorrow.

Embargoes Ordered

Informants had reported that the 20-day delay might be asked if no agreement is reached by the May 11 deadline between the railroads and three labor unions in their six-months old dispute.

Government seizure of the railroads was expected only if everything else failed.

As settlement efforts continued, six railroads imposed embargo orders on foods, poultry and livestock. At least 54 other lines planned the same step to avoid spoilage of strike-stranded cargo.

Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman called management negotiators into private conference and it was indicated he also will meet again with heads of the three rail brotherhoods before the Tuesday strike deadline.

Steelman's settlement efforts so far have been fruitless. Neither side has budged and close observers felt that President Truman might seize the country's entire rail system Monday if no peace plan is sighted by then.

POLITICS MIXED IN ATOMIC JOBS

Senate Cuts Down Terms Of Commissioners

Washington, May 8 (AP)—A new cry of "politics" threw fresh fuel today into the heated Senate controversy over Director David E. Lilienthal and his colleagues on the atomic energy commission.

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.) author of the law which created the commission, said "political motives" prompted a Senate move to renew the commissioners' terms for only 23 months—instead of the one to five years laid down by the Atomic Eenergy Act.

President Truman has renominated Lilienthal for a five-year period and other commission members for staggered terms. But a Republican-backed bill would amend the law to extend present terms only to June 30, 1950.

McMahon served notice at a news conference yesterday he will fight any such change.

He said the bill's supporters are pulling the atomic energy program into politics and he called their proposal "a horrible mistake."

First opposition to the full terms came last week from Senator Taft of Ohio, one of the leading GOP presidential hopefuls. He said there might be a new president next year who should be allowed to choose his own atomic commission.

Ypsilanti Citizens Sue Railroad For Smoke, Smell, Noise

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 8 (AP)—The city of Ypsilanti and eight property owners filed suit here yesterday against the Michigan Central railroad.

The plaintiffs asked a circuit court injunction to prohibit the railroad from "parking, operating or permitting" its locomotives to give off "obnoxious or nauseous odors, dense smoke or soot, or excessive noise" in the area of Lowell and St. John streets.

It was claimed that the railroad's operation in the area "inflicts damage on the city of Ypsilanti and is injurious to the health of its citizens."

Judge James R. Breakey, jr., set May 24 for a show cause hearing.

The plaintiffs also charged that the railroad made it impossible for persons in the area to rent property "at reasonable or fair prices."

U. S. Navy Will Set Up Communications Link in Jerusalem

Washington, May 8 (AP) — The state department asked the navy today to set up communication facilities in Jerusalem.

The Navy issued the following statement:

"At the request of the state department, the Navy department is assigning one officer and eleven men to establish communication facilities at the United States consulate in Jerusalem.

"These personnel will form an integral part of the consular staff and will function under the direction of the United States consul general who is also the United States representative on a truce commission established by the United Nations Security Council."

New Bill Legalizes Loans For Indians

Washington, May 8. (AP)—President Truman signed a bill yesterday to permit the Indian bureau to make loans to Indians who formerly were not eligible for such benefits.

The bill affects persons of one-quarter or more Indian blood who were precluded from obtaining loans under the Wheeler-Howard act or the Oklahoma welfare act.

Queen Wilhelmina Takes Another Rest

The Hague, The Netherlands, May 8 (AP)—Because of her health Queen Wilhelmina for a second time will yield her royal duties to Crown Princess Juliana.

An announcement today gave no details on the health of the 68-year-old queen. Informed sources said she is tired but there is no reason for alarm.

Juliana will act as Princess Regent of the kingdom starting next Friday.

LOW COST FHA PLAN AVAILABLE

Designed To Stimulate Construction

A new financing program for small houses under the FHA Class 3, Title I is gaining momentum in Michigan, George McEwen, local FHA representative, has announced.

The regulations provide a means whereby loan insurance is made possible for low - cost properties which may not be eligible under either Title I or Title VI of the national housing act. These houses may not necessarily be completely finished and have been described as "owner-completion" homes.

The maximum loan available is $3,000 and may be for as long as 20 years and five months with a maximum interest rate of 4½ per cent. The basic requirement is that the buyer must have not less than a 5 per cent equity in the property at the time the loan is reported for insurance. The program provides for minimum houses which can be financed on monthly payments, including principal, interest, taxes and insurance from $25 to $40 per month.

An owner-occupant building a house for his own use makes application at the lending agency and the deal is not referred to the FHA for processing. After the loan is made, the lender simply reports the loan for insurance.

In the case of houses being built by the builder for sale, the lender requests prior approval from the FHA before construction. Such application is generally processed within 24 hours and one application may suffice for a number of houses. FHA does not establish the maximum selling price.

Mrs. Adeline Meyer Is Taken By Death, Ill For Two Years

Mrs. Adeline Meyer, 77, 309 South 11th street, widow of Hubert Meyer, died yesterday following a two year illness.

Mrs. Meyer was born in Dommildange, Luxemburg, December 29, 1870, and came to Escanaba to make her home in 1903. She was a devout member of St. Joseph's parish and was active in the Third Order of St. Francis.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Henry and John, Detroit; Rev. Father Theophil, O. F. M., of Cerrillo, N M.; Edward, Escanaba; Mrs. Francis (Mildred) McGovern, Escanaba; and Lucille, Lansing; nine grandchildren and one great grandchild; and two brothers and two sisters in Luxemburg.

The body will be in state at the Allo funeral home at 10 a. m. Monday. Services will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Joseph's church, with her son, Father Theophil celebrant of the solemn requiem high mass. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

The Third Order of St. Francis will meet at the funeral home Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock to recite the rosary .

Invite Return of Naval Reservists To Active Duty

Men of enlisted status in the U. S. Naval Reserve of certain ratings may return to active duty until Dec. 1, 1948, Commander M. L. Coon of Escanaba announced today.

Active duty is in connection with training Naval Reservists on the U. S. S. Albany, a heavy cruiser which operates from east coast ports. Applications are desired from Classes O-1, V-1, V-3, and V-6, USNR, and applicants must agree to remain on active duty until December 1. Reservists accepted for this duty are entitled to active duty pay of their rate, plus longevity, dependents and clothing allowances, and sea pay.

The following rates are desired: radarmen, fire control technicians fire controlmen, radiomen, yeomen, personnel men, machinist mates, boilermen, electrician's mates, and electricians. Reserve officers are not needed for this duty. Men having previous duty with heavy cruisers or similar vessels are particularly desired.

Applications are to be made to the Commandant, Ninth Naval District, Attn: Lt. Rueber, Building No. 1, Room M-29, Great Lakes, Ill.

Mrs. Harry Symons, Former Escanaban, "Queen for a Day"

"Queen for a Day" on Friday's popular Mutual network program from Hollywood was Mrs. Harry Symons, of Long Beach, Calif., the former Tessie Harwood, of Escanaba.

Mrs. Symons, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Harwood, of 408 South 10th street, Escanaba, who is visiting with her, and Mrs. F. M. Nienaber, 324 South 7th street, who has been in California since early winter, attended the broadcast together.

As a result of her selection, Mrs. Symons was granted her special wish, a telephone visit with her daughter, Mrs. Rudy Dingham, who is with her husband, Lt. Dingham of the United States Navy, who is stationed near Shanghai, China, and was showered with valuable gifts.

The body will be in state at the Anderson funeral home Sunday afternoon. Services will be conducted by Rev. Karl J. Hammar of Central Methodist church at the funeral home Monday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest cemetery.

Faulty Dextrose Product Recalled By Manufacturer

Investigation by inspectors of the federal bureau of foods and standards has failed to reveal any contaminated dextrose product of the Cutler Laboratories of Berkley, Calif., in this area. The manufacturer is recalling all of its dextrose solution products, used in intravenous feeding. Some cases of illness were reported from West Coast communities following use of the contaminated product.

Ernest Hembroff, bureau of foods and standards inspector for the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula, advised the Delta county health department that none of the product being recalled was found in this county.

Dr. John W. Towey, superintendent of Pinecrest sanatorium, Powers, said today that the institution received notice of the contamination before any of a recent shipment was used. It was also determined that the solution received had not come from Lot No. 8164, which was the number of the contaminated solution.

In the interest of safety, however, the laboratory has recalled all of its dextrose solution products, whether of that lot number or not.

SCHOOL PLAN WILL BE AIRED

Meetings At Alton And Stonington Booked

Details of the proposed Ensign, Bay de Noc and Masonville township school reorganization program will be explained at mass meetings to be held at the Alton grange hall on Wednesday night and the Stonington grange hall on Thursday night. Both meetings will open at 8 o'clock.

Members of the school reorganization study committee will be present to answer questions concerning the proposal to consolidate Ensign, Bay de Noc and Masonville townships into a single rural agricultural school district. A movie, "It's A Way of Life," showing the benefits accruing to the Beaverton school district through reorganization will be shown at the meetings.

The study committee will hold a meeting 8 o'clock Monday evening at the Rapid River high school.

If the reorganization plan is adopted, children of the seventh and eighth grades of Ensign and Bay de Noc townships will be transported to the central school at Rapid River. Facilities for the teaching of vocational agriculture, home economics, and other courses, now not offered, also would be installed at the Rapid River high school.

Maynard O. Hansen Takes Pastorate At Bark River Church

Maynard O. Hansen, senior student at Augustana Theological Seminary, Rock Island, Illinois, has accepted the call to become pastor of Salem Lutheran church at Bark River, which before the present vacancy was served by the Rev. Emory Pokrant.

Before entering Augustana Theological Seminary, Mr. Hansen studied two years at Dana College, Blair, Nebraska, and later two years at the University of California, Berkeley, California, where he received the Bachelor's Degree. Upon graduation from the seminary, he will be ordained at the Centennial convention of the Lutheran Augustana Synod, to be held in Moline, Illinois, June 7 to 13.

Among parishes where Mr. Hansen has served in a student capacity are Bergenfield, New Jersey, St. Hilaire, Minnesota, and Muskegon, Michigan. He has also assisted in two of the synodical institutions of mercy.

Mr. Hansen visited the Bark River community at Easter time. He plans to take up residence and begin his pastoral duties about the first of July.

Fishermen Asked To Be On Lookout For Sea Lampreys

Fishermen this month are being asked by the conservation department to be on the lookout for sea lampreys—not because the lampreys might bite them, but because May is the peak month for lamprey spawning, and more names may be added to the present 83 streams with a record of lamprey infestation at this season of the year.

Anglers not sure they can distinguish the sea lamprey from the four other comparatively harmless lampreys in Michigan streams are advised to be suspicious of any lamprey concentration where the creatures are more than 14 inches long. A report to the local conservation officer will bring prompt investigation by a fisheries technician.

Meanwhile on two small streams just south of the straits, the intensive study of the sea lamprey's life cycle is continuing, with a new weir equipped to capture immature lampreys moving downstream in use, in addition to the weir used to take spawners moving upstream. Researchers are looking for a weak spot in the cycle, where practical control measures may be applied.

ATLAS PLYWOOD CHIEF ON TOUR

MacPhie Visiting Plants In Peninsula

E. I. MacPhie, president of the Atlas Plywood corporation of Boston, is making a tour of the Upper Peninsula properties of the corporation this week.

He was accompanied to the Upper Peninsula by his son, Rodney MacPhie, and C. A. Piper, Chicago sales manager. They are staying at the House of Ludington.

Today, the party went to Munising accompanied by Stanley Venne, general manager of the Northwestern Veener and Plywood corporation of Gladstone. On Monday, they will visit the Atlas plant at Rhinelander.

Town Hall Committee At Work On 1948-49 Concert Programs

The Town Hall committee of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce is at work making arrangements for the concert season to begin next fall. Three outstanding artists have been engaged, and negotiations are in progress with four others.

A highlight of the '48-49 season will be the appearance of the Westminster Choir under Dr. John Finley Williamson, October 27. On October 5, the Kryl Woman's symphony with Bohumir Kryl conducting will perform. Three soloists, Herbert Moulton, tenor; Dorothy Santopadre, soprano, and Fay Schmacker, flute virtuoso, will be featured with the symphony.

Sometime in December Devy Erlih, 18-year-old French violinist who has been accepted as a master throughout Europe, will perform in Escanaba.

Tentatively on schedule are Francine Falkon, contralto; the Delta Symphony orchestra, Orpheus Choral club and Bruce Foote, American baritone, Ennio Bolognini, cellist and Ludwig Zerner, pianists, in trio.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that total expenditures thus far for the past season amounted to $4398. Ticket sales came to $3832.70. When the Junior Chamber of Commerce assumed Town Hall last year, a surplus of $761.85 was on hand. The above figures form a partial list of Town Hall finances. Not all returns on the last concert were available at the time of computation.

Oconto Busses Cease Operation

Oconto, Wis. — Residents of Oconto have gone back to walking or riding automobiles after having enjoyed some three months of public bus transportation.

Sheriff Edward Coopman has impounded the two busses of the Oconto Transit lines, and suspension of service is indefinite. The tieup is the result of a replevin action by a Milwaukee finance company which holds chattel mortgages on the busses.

Peter Bartkus, operator of the new bus system here, has been out of the city but it is reported he is attempting to raise enough money to satisfy the Milwaukee firm's claim. The amount of money involved was not reported.

Guy Martineau Jr., who was manager of the bus company, has left the company. He stated that the busses had received good patronage from Oconto people.

Henry E. Bruemmer, Former Employe of Highway Dept., Dies

Menominee, Mich. — Henry E. Bruemmer, 52, of Prescott, Wis., former supervisor of the Menominee tourist information lodge of the Michigan State Highway Department, died at 10:15 p. m. Thursday in Prescott of heart disease. Mr. Bruemmer had been in poor health for the past year.

He was born in Algoma, Wis., on Oct. 6, 1895, a son of Mrs. Herman Bruemmer of Cedar River and the late Mr. Bruemmer. The family later moved to Stephenson and Mr. Bruemmer lived there for many years.

He joined the State Highway Department in the early thirties and worked in southern Michigan until being assigned here when the information lodge was opened in the late thirties. He served as supervisor from then until the department closed the lodge when tourist travel was curtailed after gasoline rationing was put in effect early in World War II. He was widely known among resort operators in the peninsula.

Survivors are his wife, two daughters, Joyce and Carolyn Bruemmer, and twin sons, John and Jerry Bruemmer, all of Prescott; his aged mother in Cedar River; a sister, Miss Bruemmer of Cedar River; and two brothers, Clarence Bruemmer of New Richmond, Wis.; and Louis Bruemmer of Milwaukee.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. in the Lemieux funeral home and burial will be made in Riverside cemetery.

Army Will Expand Medical Services By 300 Officers

For the first time since its creation in 1947, the Medical service corps of the Army will expand its ranks, by addition of 300 medical service officers.

An announcement from Fifth Army headquarters in Chicago said today the Army Surgeon General in Washington, D. C., has authorized immediate placement on active duty of qualified reserve officers in all four sections of the Corps. The move will open the corps to volunteers for the first time, in the medical allied science section, the pharmaceutical section, administration and supply and optometry and sanitary engineering.

Regular Army vacancies within the expanding program will be filled through competitive tours of active duty for reserve officers. Qualified civilians are eligible to apply. Civilians and enlisted personnel must apply for reserve commissions to be eligible to qualify under the program.

Reserve members holding commissions on an inactive status can apply for active duty to compete for a regular Army commission.

Protecting Minors

FOR some years the Daily Press has maintained a policy of withholding from publication the names of minors involved in crimes unless, of course, such cases actually are referred to circuit court, which rarely occurs.

The purpose of this policy is to give wayward youths an opportunity to straighten themselves out and become useful citizens. It is a policy in recognition of tender age and it is a policy, incidentally, that has been recommended by a majority of law enforcement and social welfare workers. Undoubtedly the observance of this policy through the years has accomplished much good.

There are occasions—in recent years, far too many of them—when delinquent youngsters come back into the clutches of the law repeatedly. The result has been growing pressures for the publication of the names of such violators in the hope that their parents can be forced by public pressure to assume a greater degree of parental control over their wayward children. Whatever merit there might be in this proposal is counteracted by the harmful influences that the precedent would establish.

It is for this reason that the Press will continue to withhold from publication the names of minors involved in criminal offenses.

Disposing Of Garbage

THE decision of the Escanaba city council to abandon the dumping of garbage along the south bay shore will certainly be met with hearty approval, not only by the property owners in that area but by the general public as well. The area has been a magnet for rats and an eyesore for motorists travelling along the otherwise scenic bay shore road.

The dumping of refuse in that area was designed to fill in the hollow and eventually convert that portion of the shoreline into a scenic park. Certainly this can be accomplished better, even if it takes a longer period of time, by using only ashes and sand for the fill. The accumulation of winter garbage has created a stench and an unhealthy situation that justly has brought bitter protests from property owners in that locality.

The bay shore dump was justified during the war years because of its convenience and the fact that it permitted substantial savings in gasoline and labor for garbage removal at a time when these factors were important to the war effort. For some time now, however, there has been little excuse for continuing to dispose of garbage and trash along a scenic highway well within the city limits.

Just how many rats are being harbored at the bay shore dump is anybody's guess, but it must be considerable. In recognition of its responsibility in this matter the council has agreed to employ the services of a professional rat exterminating company to get rid of the rats at the bay shore dump. It certainly is not a project that amateurs could hope to accomplish with complete success.

Henceforth the city will transport all of its garbage to the dumping grounds five miles out on the old state road and will dump only ashes along the bay shore. This is a sensible and essential solution to a problem that has grown from bad to worse in recent years.

How Times Have Changed

THE other night we attended the senior high school play, "Dear Ruth," at the school auditorium. It was a delightfully entertaining play, very well cast and excellently portrayed by the students.

What impressed us, however, was the revelation of how times have changed. A strictly modern, fresh play like "Dear Ruth" would have quickly been shunted aside for high school presentation when we were a high school senior two decades ago. It would have been considered too wordly, touching too closely to the realities of life. Class plays in those days were stiff and, frankly, not too entertaining Any play with a kissing scene was taboo. If signs of affection were necessary for portrayal of the plot, the directors usually figured out some way to convey the idea, subtlely mind you, without the hero actually kissing the heroine. Needless to say, the substitute was no reasonable facsimile of the real thing.

Any suggestion of young people actually smoking cigarettes or a pipe was also on the verboten list. In "Dear Ruth" the heroine wrestles with the problem of giving up smoking. And she gets kissed—and plenty! Not only by one guy, either.

The change, we think, is for the better. High schools are supposed to help prepare youngsters for the realities of life. It cannot be done effectively by drawing a curtain around realities while the youngsters are in school and then tossing them out upon graduation to work out problems that as far as their scholastic training was concerned, they never knew existed.

The science of education is changing and sometimes it takes comparatively minor events, like the presentation of a high school play, to make us realize it.

Repeal Is Assured

ALL doubts that federal margarine taxes would be repealed in the present session of Congress were dispelled Thursday when the Senate voted, 47 to 30, to reverse the ruling of Senator Vandenberg and send the measure to the finance committee. As presiding officer, Vandenberg had planned to send the bill to the agricultural committee where it faced certain strangulation.

Now that the bill has been sent to the finance committee, a vote on the Senate floor is assured soon. The committee will hold two days of public hearings, starting May 17, after which the committee will send the measure to the floor. Its adoption there was guaranteed as a result of the test vote Thursday. Even the most influential proponents of continued discrimination against margarine now concede that a repeal bill will pass the Senate. The measure has already been adopted by the House. Margarine taxes incidentally have been on the federal statute books for 62 years.

The status of margarine sales in Michigan, however, will not be appreciably altered by the action of Congress. The Michigan legislature only recently refused even to permit the use of margarine in state institutions, despite the fact that only synthetic jams are being served in those institutions now because of the high cost of butter. In the light of this development, it is easy to imagine that the legislature, rural in character, will not even consider any proposal to remove the ban on the sale of colored margarine in Michigan. That is, the legislature will not act unless and until the constituents begin tossing their own weight around and let their lawmakers know how the public feels about this discrimination.

SOO LINE
(Sault Ste. Marie News)

A weak sister in the Soo Line operation setup is passenger traffic.

This is indicated again in the Soo Line's annual report showing passenger revenues of only $1,580,986, a decrease of $165,198 or 9.47 per cent.

This is the problem of other railroads and the reason why passenger service is being limited to bare necessities, with little outlay for improvement of passenger services.

The Soo Line cites some hope that there will be increased tourist travel to and from the Canadian Rockies and the Pacific Coast, but it is obvious Soo Line's chief hope for continued profitable operation lies in the wheat fields which it was organized to serve, supplemented by other agricultural products, animals and products, mine and forest products, manufactures and miscellaneous.

Passenger revenue represented only 8.4 per cent of the Soo Line's income last year, while grain represented 25.1, mine products 13.6 and manufacturers and miscellaneous 22.3 per cent.

Freight revenues of the Soo Line totaled $29,161,330 compared to $24,543,962 in 1946. This is an increase of $4,617,368 or 18.81 per cent and permitting the Soo Line a net railway operating income of $2,033,179, which was cut to $1,193,000 net income when charges, mortgage interest and other deductions were made, and all this despite record gross revenue and near-record gross tonnage.

WHAT'S THE ORIGIN?

The exact origin of zoot suit probably will never some to light. But whoever coined the term created a splendidly apt name for what is surely the most bizarre raiment ever worn by the American male. The zoot suit itself originated as a sort of gala attire among young Harlem Negroes. It quickly spread throughout the country as the prevailing costume of the male jitterbug, both white and colored. Obviously, the first zoot suit was custom-made, more than likely by some small Jewish shop catering to Harlem Negroes. Since it is well known that persons who speak with either the German or Yiddish accent (Yiddish is a dialect of High German, Hebrew, and Polish) customarily pronounce an initial "s" like "z," the suit with the reet pleats probably got its name from the pronunciation "zoot" for suit, "zoot" being misunderstood as an adjective describing the suit, rather than a mispronunciation of the word suit itself; hence a zoot suit.

An Oscar is a small figurine that accompanies the awards of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for "bests" in 25 fields of motion picture endeavor It is said that the statue was given its name by actress Bette Davis on the occasion of her first Academy award. Placing the little trophy on her mantel, she jestingly referred to it as "my Oscar in bronze." At the time, she was married to Harmon Oscar Nelson, her first husband.

The drug penicillin was named by Alexander Fleming, the British doctor who first used the drug in the treatment of infections. Penicillin, pronounced PEN-i-SILL'-in, is the exudate of a food mold called Penicillium, from the Latin penicillium, "a little tail." Under the microscope the mold is seen to be covered with erect cells resembling tufts or little tails. Also, the word pencil has the same origin, for the first pencils were actually small, pointed brushes of hair exactly like the brushes the Chinese have always used in writing by hand.

Washington. — That shadow across the sky, if you are at all interested, is the shadow of the police state. It is growing darker as the suspicious men on Capitol Hill let their fears and their prejudices spur them on.

The latest move originates with Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan, whose prejudice-suspicion rating is as high as any in the House. Under a bill introduced by Hoffman, anyone divulging confidential information from a committee of Congress could be put in jail for a year and fined $1,000.

Quickly the House rules committee gave this strange measure a green light. The little group of men on the rules committee, who sit at the toll gate telling the House what it can and cannot consider, shut the gate on many important legislative matters. But this they voted worth of admission.

Faces were red when it was realized that the Hoffman bill would cover newspapermen as well as congressmen and committee aides. Reddest face of all was that of Rep. Clarence Brown of Ohio, a member of the rules committee, who is a newspaper publisher. He says he will amend the bill on the floor to exempt newspaper men from its provisions.

A STEP BACKWARDS

Those who think that this will remove the threat to freedom interent in the bill are incurable optimists. To apply criminal penalties to anyone in this connection is to take a long step toward the police state.

It is important to look at the motivation for this newest move. President Truman has refused to give to the un-American activities committee the loyalty file on Dr. Edward Condon of the Bureau of Standards. Basing his refusal on a long series of precedents, the president holds that it is the prereogative of the executive department of the government to withhold confidential papers pertaining to the work of that department.

But another element is involved. The department of commerce carefully surveyed the charges brought against Condon. Using the machinery authorized under the president's loyalty order, the department found that Condon was loyal. Part of the evidence considered was a letter from J. Edgar Hoover giving the FBI finding on Condon.

To turn the Condon file over to a committee of Congress would violate the terms of the loyalty test as defined by the White House. There is the risk that the material, which contains hearsay reports, rumors and gossip, would become public.

ONE STEP LEADS TO ANOTHER

In order to lessen that risk, Rep. Hoffman proposes to apply criminal penalties to those "leaking" confidential information. It is precisely in this way that the encroachments of the police state grow and multiply. One step leads to another step, as in this instance.

The question of the freedom of newspaper reporters to report information is in a sense irrelevant. The tradition of a free press, backed by the very great power of the American press, insures the elimination of any threat to free reporting insofar as the present move is concerned.

Hoffmann was remarkably frank in arguing that newspaper men had no all-inclusive right of "disclosing information." In wartime, he said, the publication of information giving aid and comfort to the enemy was punishable as treason. He seemed to be implying that we needed some such law in peacetime.

There are some irresponsible men in the newspaper business. Rep. Hoffman might have pointed out that the newspaper which most noisily and vociferously supports him published at a critical moment in World War II information which might have given enormous aid and comfort to the enemy.

But to violate a fundamental canon of freedom in order to punish a few offenders is the equivalent of burning down the house to destroy a few rats. When our freedom is gone, it will be too late to study the way in which, step by step, it was taken from us.

Why the un-American activities committee wants the Condon report is fairly clear. They want to buttress their own findings, which are not too substantial, with J. Edgar Hoover's opinion.

This is to give to the FBI a power it has never sought—a power that it does not want— It gives to a police agency, which is essentially what the FBI is, the power to make policy and pass on the fitness, or the lack of it, of candidates for high office. That is the real meaning of the controversy between Capitol Hill and the White House.

DIESEL DOROTHY— Dorothy is a cat. She makes her home in the Escanaba & Lake Superior railroad roundhouse at Wells where the railroadmen have come to look upon her with considerable affection. They feed her scraps from their lunch pails and she considers the roundhouse and everything in it hers by right of her status as mascot.

Dorothy had kittens last Sunday. Four little puling things with closed eyes and the usual absence of hair. The quadruplets might have been welcomed by the trainmen—except Dorothy chose a most inaccessible place on the diesel locomotive as her maternity ward. This was in the frame under the false deck beneath the locomotive cab. To really reach Dorothy and her kittens you would have had to just about tear the locomotive apart. Complicating the problem was the fact that the diesel was only in for its monthly inspection and on Tuesday it would have to go back on the run.

The railroadmen were as concerned for the kittens as they were for the diesel, especially after two of the kittens fell to the ground through a small hole in a casting and mewed piteously for their mother. One of the kittens suffered a bloody nose.

Something had to be done if tragedy was to be averted. So Gus Johnson, E. & L. S. dispatcher and the smallest man around at the time, crawled as far as he could into the diesel's interior, found the hole in the casting through which the two kittens had fallen, and thrust his hand and arm into the space that Dorothy had chosen for the birthday event Gus finally hauled Dorothy out and then the kittens. This was accomplished on Monday.

Now Dorothy and the kittens are bedded down in a space set aside for them in the men's shower room at the roundhouse. Bob Rose reported the other day that they are doing fine, although he expressed concern over the kitten with the bloody nose.

Oh yes, the diesel went out Tuesday on schedule.

OF TWO KINDS—People seem to be divided in their opinion of cats. There are those who "just love cats", and others who "can't stand the things."

There is no middle ground, such as you find in man's relationship with the dog. People tolerate dogs unless they love them, but seldom do they hate dogs with the intensity of the hate expressed against cats.

In defense of cats, it must be reported that they have several admirable qualities. Seldom if ever does a cat fawn upon man as does the dog. The cat is an independent soul, and will stay only where he is well treated. If a better proposition presents itself, they will leave without so much as a farewell and take up residence elsewhere. Let the people be friendly and the food ample and the cat will stay.

* * *

IN MANY PLACES —The dog is often described as man's best friend. The cat is also a friend of man, but makes less show of his worthiness. Cats kill mice and other rodents, and we know of several business places where a cat is a fixture in the establishment. At the same time, we must admit that many cats play hide and seek with rats and mice and that's about as far as they go. As for killing them, they never quite catch up.

* * *

PROVING HER WORTH—The smart cat makes a pretense, at least, of proving its worth. We know of one eating place where the cat was admired because she seemed capable of keeping the mice away. Then the restaurant was remodeled from the basement up, and there seemed no place for a mouse to hide. The cat presumably had nothing to do.

Then one day when the restaurant was filled with patrons and the waitresses were scurrying around the chrome and fluorescent dining room, the cat walked in from the kitchen. Proudly she pranced to the center of the dining room where there was open space and deposited on the new and sparkling floor—a very large, dead and dirty mouse.

That cat still has a home in the restaurant, although the proprietor is convinced that the mouse on the dining room floor originally came from the alley and not from his kitchen.

* * *

LUXURY ITEM—Cats brought up in a home have a flair for luxurious living. They select the warmest and softest places to curl up, and will seek out the silk or satin-covered pillow on which to sleep.

One lady we know says she will either have to dispose of the family cat or a brand new silken coverlet for her bed. She admits she prizes the coverlet more than the cat, but wishes she could keep both.

Every time the silken coverlet is placed on the bed the lady closes the bedroom door. But before the day is over the cat somehow manages to get into the room, and will be found on the bed, grinning with pleasure at the feel of the silk-smooth coverlet under her feet.

It is also a place where you can pick up a bedbug or a cold, make a home, commit a murder, hear a harmonica duet, meet a girl, close a business deal or buy a pencil from a blind man.

Some people believe the subway made modern New York City possible. Others are just as sure it has made the city impossible.

The subway is a twice-a-day Purgatory to millions who have to ride it during the rush hours.

It is the safest railroad in the world, but it remains a claustrophobic hell for many who get nervous when the train rolls under the East river. They go on for years dreading a tube collapse and swift drowning in rushing waters. It is futile to point out to these people this isn't likely to happen.

"Here anything can happen," they say. In that they are about right.

The subway is more than a transportation system that sews the town together. Some day it will have a Boswell to write its history, a Bobby Burns to sing its songs.

Some natives here when asked to give their place of birth can put down truthfully: "A subway station at so-and-so streets." A few have been born in the subway, many have died there. The roaring wheels—fascinating invitations to death for the life-sick—have extinguished the problems of living for hundreds who put their nickel in the turnstile for a pass to eternity. Beginning July 1 it will cost a dime.

Cheap Place To Live

These "leapers" are the bane of subway workers and cops who must jack up the trains and lift out the dreamless flesh. This interrupts the schedule ten to twenty minutes and angers thousands of riders who complain "why didn't he jump offa Brooklyn bridge?"

The subway sometimes serves as a traveling store, home and concert hall for small-time opportunists. Romances have begun and ended in it.

Theoretically, a man could live forever in the subway—a full, crowded life at that. He could mooch his eating money from fellow passengers, sleep at night on the warm seats and change his socks in the rest rooms, where he could also do his laundry. In times of depression men have saved rent money that way for weeks. Whole families have done it for days.

The talented boy whose voice sounded swell in Keokuk but hasn't stirred an echo on Broadway often picks up small change yodeling to subway riders going home from the movies. Pitch men peddle novelty jewelry, wax flowers, neckties and song sheets. It is a wonderful place to buy from a shabby bum a "hot diamond ring at a bargain" that is no diamond, no bargain, nor "hot."

The subway has the city's largest circulating libraries—trash boxes in which readers stuff newspapers and others pluck them out for free.

At every point the subway touches the life of the city. There even is a theory that the subway is responsible for the Brooklyn accent—it is the only speech that will penetrate the noise of grinding wheels.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Washington. — One of the richest war prizes captured from the Germans was a series of Nazi documents on Hitler's secret deals. These gave a gold mine of information on Nazi intrigue all over the world and should help the American people to avoid war in the future.

Many of these documents have now been made public. But significantly, highly illuminating German secrets pertaining to the Arabs so far have not. They are especially enlightening today in view of the Palestine crisis and the Arab claim that they deserve world sympathy.

British diplomats, this columnist is informed, were bitter when they first learned of Arab-Nazi intrigue at a time when the British were fighting with their backs to the wall near Suez. But despite British resentment, the texts of the Nazi messages have not been made public, even though captured at the expense of Anglo-American blood.

British diplomats have admitted that pressure from Washington is the reason for suppressing these documents. The U. S. defense department—which means Forrestal—plus American oil are not anxious to embarrass the Arab leaders. That apparently is why the American public does not know that King Farouk of Egypt furnished war secrets to Field Marshal Rommel when the British had their backs to the wall in Egypt.

It also remains a top secret that King Farouk corresponded with Hitler during the war and that Rachid El Gailani, former minister-president of Iraq, received bribes from the Nazis, and that King Ibn Saud also dickered with Hitler.

However, this column has been able to obtain copies of some of the secret Arab-Nazi correspondence. Here is one letter dated March 24, 1943, in which King Farouk of Egypt informed German Ambassador Ettel that he was "still hoping for an axis victory." The letter from Ambassador Ettel to Foreign Minister von Ribbentrop follows:

"Secret state matter

"Berlin, March 24, 1943.

"Ambassador Ettel

"The confidential agent who transmitted a message from the Reich to King Farouk, has, in the meantime, returned from Egypt. During his stay he had two lengthy conversations with King Farouk. In these conversations the king gratefully acknowledged the security measures which the Reich had taken for his person and the manner in which this question had been handled. King Farouk instructed the confidential agent to convey the king's gratitude to the foreign minister of the Reich.

"The king also informed the confidential agent that, as in the past, he was still hoping for an axis victory. Specifically, the king declared that the rumors which were being circulated about a rapprochement between him and the democracies, were nothing else but a matter of political expediency and shrewdness, necessary for the then prevailing circumstances. The king also expressed his thanks for the dilatory way in which the matter of Prince Mansur's departure from Istanbul had been handled. Under the present circumstances, the king no longer objected to the prince going to Italy or Germany.

"Finally, the king instructed the confidential agent to convey his best wishes to the Mufti of Jerusalem and to all those who work with him for the success and the victory of the axis.

"Submitted to the foreign minister of the Reich. "SGD, Ettel."

REAL ESTATE LOBBY

For sheer effrontery, last week's battle over the Cain housing bill—a half-baked measure to guarantee the profits of private builders, while ignoring the vital need for low-cost public housing and slum clearance—tops anything the real estate lobby has pulled in recent times.

Senator Harry P. Cain, Republican, of Washington, elected as an out-and-out real estate champion, certainly lived up to the expectation of his sponsors. He waited until Senators Ralph Flanders of Vermant, John Sparkman of Alabama, Bob Taft of Ohio and other proponents of public housing were absent from town before asking Senate approval of the real estate bonanza.

Meantime, House leaders were keeping their own chamber in recess, standing by to pass the bill once the Senate had acted. Meantime, also, sitting big as life on the Senate floor were those tireless pals of the real estate lobby, Representatives Jesse Wolcott of Michigan and Ralph Gamble of New York. House Majority Leader Charles Halleck of Indiana also sat eagerly on a sofa at the edge of the Senate floor.

These three musketeers occasionally huddled with young Senator Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, another friend of the lobby.

However, when alert Senators William Fulbright of Arkansas, Democrat, and Irving Ives of New York, Republican, finally blocked action until foes of the legislation could be present to vote, Halleck's face blazed with anger.

As he left the Senate, muttering with rage, a senator called after him: "Well, I guess you boys took a licking."

Halleck turned, rubbed his nose like a prize-fighter.

"Yeah, maybe we did, but just wait!" barked the Hoosier congressman.

Note—House leaders plan to block the Taft-Ellender-Wagner low-cost housing bill in Congressman Wolcott's banking and currency committee. Although it passed the Senate, the bill is already gathering dust in Wolcott's pigeonhole.

Mary Jane Hurley, Betty Nantell and Elaine Sivertsen will play violas and Donna Rudness, Lynn Bergman and Nancy Duchaine cellos. Alice Mae Davidson and Lorian Sundelius will be featured in the string bass section. Irene Steen plays the flute and Lucy Baum will play the oboe. Joan Stratton will play in the French horn group.

Harold Cloutier will play first trumpet; Charles Benziger, first trombone. Robert St. Martin of Escanaba will be featured at the snare drums. At the piano for the massed concert will be Eunice Holmes of Escanaba and Nancy Oman of Gravearet in Marquette.

The orchestra will be comprised of 50 violins, 10 violas, 15 cellos, 9 string basses, five flutes, two oboes, six clarinets, four French horns, six trumpets, three trombones, one bass drum and tympani and two snare drums.

RUARK OPPOSES SOLDIER BRIBE

Why Pay Bonus To Volunteers, He Asks

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—There must be a lot of quiet amusement circulating among the alumni of the last war, as they observe the handsprings and somersaults in Washington, where a politically acceptable peacetime draft bill is in process of birth.

There is fine consideration for the peacetime victim of selective service that is almost funny, when compared to the country's cavalier treatment of the wartime draftee. One of the funniest facets, in a wry sort of way, is the recent proposal by Rep. Leo Allen (R., Ill.) to pay the boys cash bonuses of $1000 and $1500 for their sacrifice in giving a couple or three years to the country, for homeside, non-fighting service.

I do not recall any cash inducements for the privilege of leaving your job and family to go out and labor in the last one, or any special consideration for the candidate for heroism. The little message came through the mail, and off you went. If you didn't go, they came and got you. Some guys went off and lived on islands and ships and in tents for three years, and some guys got messily killed. This, however, was regarded as non-curious and completely standard, since the nation happened to be at war.

Mamas Wept Before

It is probably selfish of me, but I don't feel as though the 19-25 year-old bracket of today is a bit better than the same bracket of half-a-dozen years ago, or deserving of any more consideration. If a shooting war with indeterminate service in the forces was acceptable to Joe, then a two-year draft in peace, for security's sake, is certainly no outrageous insult to Joe's little brother.

Nor do I think that the Joes of the country, already burdened with heavy taxes, should have to dig deeper to pay for a bribe to little brother, to persuade him to skip happily off to camp. Let him go to camp and sweat out his time, if the experts think it necessary for the country's safety. If the mamas weep; well, they wept before, and the tears didn't uproot our political structure at the time.

A peacetime draft is a distasteful thing, like income taxes. It gravels a man to be ripped loose from his job, his school, or his family to eat messhall chow, snipe cigarette butts from the PX yard, take orders from sadistic sergeants and live his life by the numbers. But for the life of me I cannot see how it is worse than being ripped loose from job, school and family in wartime, because in addition to the unpleasant chores of military life, there was also the hazard of becoming slightly dead, too boot. Plus the fact that in war they set you no time limits on the day you can go back to the farm.

You will get no sympathy on the rigors of a peacetime draft from the hardbitten graduates of the last fracas. I have just finished a book called "The Naked and the Dead" by a fellow named Norman Mailer, which might even be required reading for the candidates for whatever kind of new draft the boys in Washington arrange.

It is a long, tough book about an operation on a Jap-held island, free of heroics, and crammed with the sweaty, cold, dysentery - ridden, backbreaking, fearful, awful experiences of a combat soldier on a fouled-up deal. This was the army, Mr. Jones, for my age-group. It was a very unpleasant army, but a great many men lived through it without too many scars. A careful perusal of the book might convince today's potential draftee that he has not been ganged by the whole world—that, indeed, he has it pretty nice for himself.

It's easy for me to say go ahead and draft 'em, since I am exempt by virtue of membership in the last fraternity, but I still say it. If we could stand it, they can stand it, and you don't have to hang out a $1000 doorprize to herd them through the barracks gate.

Looked at and looked up to

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

This is the one, of course, that you spot at a glance.

This is the one that sends a string of facts racing through your mind – if you know automobiles – the instant you see the name ROADMASTER spelled out on its fender.

Up to one hundred and fifty Fireball horsepower. Eighteen feet big – and spring-colt lively.

Gorgeously finished. Coil-spring cradled on all four wheels. Shod with oversize tires that take extra low pressures for added comfort.

Convenient too – with push-button controls not only for the top, but for door windows and the front-seat adjustment as well.

This, too, is the only passenger car in this country where the power plant does what gears used to do.

Here's the one place you'll find Dynaflow Drive,* in which liquid replaces not only the clutch and manually operated low, second and high, but mechanical gear-changers as well.

In short – here's liquid ease and smoothness in delightful new degree, through a sort of "magic muscle" that lets you forget about gear-changing practically entirely.

No wonder, then, this car is looked up to.

Looked up to for impressive appearance – looked up to for superlative ability.

Looked up to for what's newest in engineering advances.

If your standards call for a real performer – and for quality a cut above the ordinarily good – specify ROADMASTER when you see your dealer (with or without a car to trade) about getting an order in.

WHAT'S DIFFERENT ABOUT DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left above), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

BUICK alone has all these features

- ★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional, Roadmaster Series)
- ★ TAPER-THRU STYLING (Super and Roadmaster)

FOR BETTER HOMES Build - Repair - Remodel FOR BETTER LIVING

CLEAN - CUT AND COMPACT, this four-room house can be built on a comparatively small budget. Later, if the need arises and means permit, two more rooms can be finished in the attic. This, however, would necessitate the erection of a shed dormer at the rear.

Special Lawn Treatment For Small House Design

Low-Terracing is Suggested for Added Distinction, Economy in Excavation for Cellar and Better Drainage

Through simple low-terracing of the surrounding lawn, the design of "The Apponaug," the four-room cottage presented today by the Architects' Co-operative Plan Service, Inc., has been given special distinction.

Furthermore, the ground treatment—which, by the way is not practical in a closely-built section but is recommended for a lot with at least a 60-foot frontage—eliminates about two feet of cellar excavation, affords better drainage, gives the house a low, nestling appearance which enhances design and, lastly, creates an effect of added height which makes the cottage seem larger than its actual over-all dimensions of 29x25 feet. The cubage of the structure is 15,000 feet. The square plan and utilization of every available inch of space minimizes the construction cost.

Color Scheme Suggested

White-painted clapboard walls and trim and green roof and shutters are suggested for the color scheme. Window-boxes under the side windows add a "homey" charm. The red, pressed brick steps and platform, flanked by simple ornamental railings, set off the main entrance.

The front door opens on a corner of the 16x10.6-foot living room whose wide wall spaces present splendid possibilities for furniture arrangements. There is no fireplace, this feature having been sacrificed to keep down expense.

In the long inside wall of the living room a door opens on a small inner hall, while at another point in this same wall a second door closes off the stairs to the attic storage space. The space at the foot of the stairs could be fitted up for use as a coat closet for guests' wraps.

The attic, if desired, could be finished into two bedrooms with lavette between, still leaving storage space under the eaves in the front roofslant.

Shed Dormer Advised

Owners planning such future developments of the second story will be wise in constructing a shed dormer on the rear roof at the time of building the house; also extending water and drain pipes to the second floor, and capping them until such time as upstairs rooms are finished.

The straight, inner hall of The Apponaug connects all the rooms. At one end of the corridor is a door to the cellar stairway, at the opposite end, a linen closet.

Either a full basement or excavation under living room, bath and kitchen only is a matter of choice for owners. Comparison of costs, in which any reliable contractor can advise, will likely be a deciding factor in the decision. In either case the basement will have ample room for laundry, heater and storage.

Two bedrooms opening off the inner hall measure 10.6x11 and 11x10 feet respectively. Each bedroom has cross ventilation from two windows and each has a good-sized clothes closet.

The bathroom is planned for a rectangular corner tub with overhead shower. The floor here, as in the kitchen, is linoleum covered; other floors in the house are hardwood.

Efficient Kitchen Layout

The kitchen, measuring 11.6x10 feet, has its equipment conveniently placed. Beside the range there is a working counter with overhead cabinet. Another working counter with sink and a wall cabinet above is placed along the rear, outside wall, with a service entry to the back yard placed at the end of this counter. The refrigerator stands against the smaller, inside wall of the room while, opposite it, below a window looking out on the side yard there is open wall space where a breakfast table could be placed.

At a slight additional cost a rear porch may be added to this plan. Screened in, such a porch could make a pleasant outdoor dining room.

If it is intended to eventually finish up the attic, the area under the roof should be insulated at the time of construction. Otherwise insulation should be placed over ceilings of all first-floor rooms. A site facing southeast to northwest will give best day-long light for the principal rooms of the house.

Plans Are Available

Complete plans and specifications for this house, "The Apponaug," are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Daily Press and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

Well-Filled Joints Needed For Best Masonry Walls

Rain - Penetration Tests Made by Bureau of Standards

The most serviceable masonry walls are likely to be obtained when the joints are well filled and the suction rate of absorptive bricks is reduced by wetting prior to use, and when the mortar has satisfactory working properties, according to a summary of the results of the National Bureau of Standards' work on rain penetration through masonry walls.

When masonry walls were subjected to conditions resembling exposure to rain and wind, some of them leaked badly in less than three minutes, while others withstood a severe test for more than one week. When leakage occurred it took place largely through openings in the joints. The resistance of the joints to leakage depended principally upon the method of laying the units.

Essentials for Resistance

The walls which were most resistant contained either solidly filled vertical joints or a moisture barrier consisting of a plaster coating of mortar within the wall.

The watertightness of the joints also was affected by the suction rate of the bricks at the time of laying and the working properties or water retentivity of the mortar. In general, it was found necessary to wet highly absorptive bricks before they were laid in order to obtain masonry highly resistant against rain penetration. In fact, the wetter the bricks at time of laying, the greater the resistance.

Results of Brick Tests

Reducing the number of header bricks in walls of common American bond did not have a significant effect on water permeability. Walls composed of a facing of low absorptive brick and a backing of highly absorptive brick gave better performances than similar walls constructed entirely of either type of brick. The resistance of walls with brick facings and hollow-unit backings depended chiefly upon the permeability of the facing.

The maximum strength of brick-mortar joints usually was obtained when the suction rate of the brick was between 0.2 and 1 ounce per minute, the suction rate being the amount of water that was absorbed by a brick when immersed flatwise to a depth of one-eighth inch for one minute. The strength of the joints also tended to increase with an increase in the water retentivity of the mortar, especially with bricks of moderate or high suction rates.

Many Women Revolt Over High Shelves

One resolution which many women are making these days is to have every shelf and every hook in their houses within reach. This isn't an easy thing to achieve. Too many men seem to think women have arms the length of a giant and that it's quite as convenient to have shelves next to the ceiling as anywhere else.

FHA Bulletin Gives Painting Suggestion

The Federal Housing Administration, in a bulletin that deals with suggestions for the planning of small houses, makes the following recommendations for painting:

Exterior trim should be backpainted before erection.

Exterior of house proper should be given three coats of oil paint or, when especially prepared, two-coat paint following the manufacturer's instructions in either case. Painted masonry should receive two coats, preferably of a cement-base paint.

Interior woodwork should have at least three coats (either three coats of flat paint or two coats of flat and one of enamel.)

A high-gloss enamel is suggested for kitchen, bath, and other service parts of a house, as it is easier to keep clean and wears well.

REPLACE WORN SILLS

Wooden doorsills that wear down and leave a gap that invites the rain and the wind indoors may be replaced with either new hardwood sills or cast brass saddles with metal weatherstripping.

SHINGLES LIKE FISH SCALES

Roof shingles should lie like fish scales—flat and smooth — if they are to shed water. Shingles that are warped, curled, split or otherwise worn, need replacing. They are warning signals that the roof, if it hasn't already started to leak, is about ready to do so.

New Sound-Absorbing Plaster Recommended

A sound - absorbing plaster, hardly distinguishable from ordinary plaster, is being found adaptable to nurseries, bedrooms, and other places where acoustical treatment is desired.

Several kinds of such plaster are being marketed. One type has a light gray natural appearance but may be colored to almost any shade by the use of mortar colors or may be painted by using special thin acoustical paint. Other makes are furnished in several different colors.

Use Sizing on Plaster Before Applying Paint

Application of a coat of sizing on a plastered wall surface before painting is a wise procedure. A good preparation for sizing may be purchased from any paint dealer or may be made up of varnish thinned with turpentine and colored with a little of the wall paint.

A territory-wide plebiscite held in Hawaii in 1940 resulted in a two-to-one vote in favor of statehood.

They also stopped at the Norris Dam. Their trip took them through the Cumberland, Big Smoky, Blue Ridge and Allegheny Mountains and the Shenandoah Valley. In all, they traveled 3,580 miles.

The roads were good, Mr. Vandenboom said, the weather fine, and foliage beautiful beyond description.

Helen Loeffler Is the Bride of Robert J. Todd

Pink and white snapdragons, arranged with the lighted altar candles formed the setting in St. Joseph's church this morning for the wedding of Helen Lou Loeffler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar F. Loeffler, 314 First avenue south, and Robert J. Todd, of Marquette. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. James A. Todd of 120 Fisher street.

Rev. Father Alphonse, O. F. M., performed the ceremony at a 9 o'clock nuptial high mass. St. Joseph's choir sang the music of the mass, with Mrs. Donald Wolfe, Miss Doris Costley and Mrs. Eldridge Baker, soloists. Mrs. John Cass sang the Offertory solo, "Ave Maria," and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother." Miss Eva Cossette, organist-director, played the bridal processional and recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore tra-tional white satin, the gown styled with a pearl beaded yoke, sweetheart neckline, long-fitted sleeves and a full train. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and sweetpeas.

Attendants Gownea Alike

Her sisters, Mary, who was maid of honor, and Catherine Ann, who was junior bridesmaid, wore identical gowns, Mary's of pale green and Catherine Ann's, pale yellow taffeta, made with fitted bodices and hoop skirts. They wore matching headbands and carried bouquets of pink and white flowers, tied with ribbons of the same shade.

Mrs. Loeffler selected a green and black print and white accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Todd wore a gray print with white accessories. Corsages of white roses were worn by both mothers.

Attending the bridegroom were Donald Jensen and Ted Fingel, both of Marquette.

A wedding breakfast for 40 guests was served at the home of the bride's parents, followed by a reception at 2:30 o'clock for 150 guests. Bouquets of pink and white snapdragons and tall tapers were used in the decorations with the tiered wedding cake.

The newlyweds are leaving on a honymoon motor trip, their destination unannounced. They will make their home in Sault Ste. Marie.

Guests at Wedding

The bride, a graduate of St. Joseph's high school, class of 1946, attended Cloverland Commercial college and has been employed as secretary for the Harnischfeger Corporation. Her husband, a graduate of Baraga high school, Marquette, served in the European theatre of war. He recently completed a course in accounting at Cloverland Commercial college, and has taken a position as an accountant at Sault Ste. Marie.

Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gunn and Lloyd Gunn, jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Putman, Green Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Livermore, Pensaukee, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Reis, Saukville, Wis.; Mrs. Andrew Schaech, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Loeffler, Spalding; Mrs. James Todd, Miss Pat Todd, Mr. and Mrs. William Connors, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Niemi, Thomas McLaughlin, Donald Jensen, Ted Fingel, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jensen, Mrs. Patricia Conway, Mrs. Charles McLaughlin, Mrs. William McLaughin, Mrs. Ross Todd, Mrs. William Todd, Jack Todd and Miss Eleanor December, Marquette.

Methodist Parish Meeting Tuesday

A congregational meeting of the First Methodist church at which Rev. John Meredith, superintendent of the Marquette district, will conduct a quarterly conference, will be held at the church Tuesday evening. A pot luck supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

VFW Auxiliary Party Tuesday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will hold a mother and daughter party Tuesday evening, May 11, at the V. F. W. hall. The party will open with a 6:30 o'clock pot luck supper, and a social will follow the supper.

Miss Woolcock Bride, Wedding At St. Patrick's

Miss Kathleen Woolcock, daughter of E. A. Woolcock, 207 North 14th street, and Theodore Kleiman, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kleiman, sr., of Wilson, spoke wedding vows in a double ring ceremony performed at 10 o'clock this morning at St. Patrick's church by Rev. Fr. Howard Drolet.

The bride was attended by the bridegroom's sisters, Florence Kleiman, who was maid of honor, and Barbara, who was bridesmaid, and her cousin, Barbara Davidson, of Chicago, who was flower girl. John Woolcock, brother of the bride, was best man, Joseph Kleiman served as usher, and Frances Kleiman was ring bearer.

Bride In White Satin

White slipper satin was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. The gown was made with a scalloped neckline, lace yoke, long sleeves and a full length train. Her fingertip veil was caught to a Juliet cap. As her only jewelry, she wore a cameo necklace, which had belonged to her mother, and she carried red roses and white baby mums. The maid of honor wore aqua marquisette over taffeta and the bridesmaid a like gown of yellow, and the little flower girl was dressed in pink. All had wreaths of flowers and carried colonial bouquets.

Mrs. Kleiman wore a brown silk print with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

A wedding breakfast for 18 was served at Belle's and a wedding dinner at the Kleiman home is being followed by a reception for 150 guests. The tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and bridegroom, and spring flowers will center the table for the bridal dinner.

Home In Wilson

The newlyweds, following a trip to Chicago and Milwaukee, will live in Wilson.

The bride, a graduate of St. Joseph high school, has been employed by the Venus Sewing company. Her husband, a Harris high school graduate, is with the Bark River Culvert company.

Guests at the wedding included Mrs. Irene Gaffney, Mrs. Pat Davidson and son Leroy, Miss Bette Farrell, and Mrs. Laura LaMarche, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. William Ruttner and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ruttner, of Carney.

Church Events

SENIOR CLASS ENACTS DRAMA

Able Direction Revealed In Well Acted Play

The cast was an exceptionally well chosen one, each member doing splendid justice to his or her part and the audience was kept at a high pitch of suspense, sympathy or merriment throughout the evening.

The play, a serious drama, called not only for good acting, but an understanding of character portrayal not usually required of amateur actors, but the young people tackled their work in a way that showed able and careful coaching.

Elaine Larson and Dan Giovannini had roles about which the theme of the play revolved, but there were, really no minor roles in the play.

Miss Elaine, as Jane Crosby, the household servant to whom a dying widow entrusted her estate was splendid. She had good looks, a good speaking voice and acted naturally. Dan, as Ben Jordan, the family outcast whose rehabilitation is effected through Jane's sensible administration of her trust, played well the part of a willful, headstrong and at the same time sensible young man.

Fred McGregor, as Henry Jordon, oldest of the heirs acted splendidly the role of a henpecked husband, egged on to cussedness by his avaricious and sharp tongued wife. The wife, portrayed by Ruth Mattinson was true to life. Joan McNamara, as a member of the Jordan family, also played impressively the cold-blooded selfishness of the family assembled to hear of their mother's death. Angela Frankovich, as Ella Jordan, the unmarried sister, played up a character blind to everything but her own personal ambitions. With this group assembled awaiting word of their mother's death, the theatrical atmosphere was decidedly icebound.

Comedy was supplied in major part by Jimmy Nelson as a squirmy youngster and by Margaret Nelson as Hannah, the household slavey whose acting was a scream and whose getup was a nightmare.

Dave Watson, as Judge Bradford, the village squire, gave dignity to an important role as did also Clyde Strassler, as the officiating doctor. Bill McKenzie acted well the part of a town marshall who approached his duties with timidity.

The setting was also very offective, the suggestion of a chilly room being brought by the frequent opening of a stove door from which a feeble light glowed half heartedly.

The auditorium was practically filled.

Newberry Man In Minor Motor Spill

Locking of the car's front wheel on slippery pavement is blamed for an accident to the car of Ken Addington, of Newberry Thursday afternoon.

The accident occurred while he was driving through the village of Gulliver, the car leaving the road and turning over. Addington received only minor bruises and damage to the car was not serious.

FAMED MUSIC GROUP COMING

City Gives Enthusiastic Support To Concert

Whole hearted, and in many instances enthusiastic support of the local effort to bring to the city some of the country's finest musical talent, is reported by a local committee which made a canvass of the business district of Manistique several days of this week in promoting ticket sales to the concert to be given here on the evening of Wednesday, May 19.

Practically every business house in town made purchases of tickets and more often than not those contacted expressed themselves as wishing for a long time that something like this would turn up.

Clint Leonard, one of the local committee, explained that while the primary objective of this solicitation is to make expenses on this engagement (and the expenses are heavy) the support of this entertainment will be taken as an indication of the community's wish to have something more on the same order next season.

The Chicago String Ensemble, composed of string musicians with the Chicago Symphony orchestra is rated as one of the top quality musical organizations in the country. With the ensemble as soloist Is Rosaline Nadell, mezzo-soprano of operatic fame.

Tickets are available at Manistique high school, Leonard's Barber shop and Martin Insurance Agency.

"You Can Tell Right Away It's a McCORMICK-DEERING . . .
. . . IT TURNS SO EASILY!"

McCormick-Deering Cream Separators have always been known for their ability to turn with very little effort . . . and now advanced engineering changes have made this an even easier job. On models of 500 and 750 lbs. capacity, crank speed RPMs have been increased from 48 to 60; less force is required than before for hand-cranking.

Of course, easy turning is only one outstanding feature of the McCormick-Deering line. Each of the four sizes gives you stainless steel construction for low bacteria count and easy cleaning . . . close skimming to a trace . . . sturdy construction. See the McCormick-Deering on display here now.

Let Mother's Day Be Bright and Cheerful

Tomorrow is Mother's Day. If your mother is among the living, thank God for the blessing and do all you can to make this day in her honor a bright and a happy one. Those of us to whom mother is but a sainted memory will do well to keep her more in our thoughts and record the happiness that she showered upon us. But above all, let Mother's Day be bright and cheerful. Mother was that way, you know.

SENIOR CLASS ENACTS DRAMA

Able Direction Revealed In Well Acted Play

The cast was an exceptionally well chosen one, each member doing splendid justice to his or her part and the audience was kept at a high pitch of suspense, sympathy or merriment throughout the evening.

The play, a serious drama, called not only for good acting, but an understanding of character portrayal not usually required of amateur actors, but the young people tackled their work in a way that showed able and careful coaching.

Elaine Larson and Dan Giovannini had roles about which the theme of the play revolved, but there were, really no minor roles in the play.

Miss Elaine, as Jane Crosby, the household servant to whom a dying widow entrusted her estate was splendid. She had good looks, a good speaking voice and acted naturally. Dan, as Ben Jordan, the family outcast whose rehabilitation is effected through Jane's sensible administration of her trust, played well the part of a willful, headstrong and at the same time sensible young man.

Fred McGregor, as Henry Jordon, oldest of the heirs acted splendidly the role of a henpecked husband, egged on to cussedness by his avaricious and sharp tongued wife. The wife, portrayed by Ruth Mattinson was true to life. Joan McNamara, as a member of the Jordan family, also played impressively the cold-blooded selfishness of the family assembled to hear of their mother's death. Angela Frankovich, as Ella Jordan, the unmarried sister, played up a character blind to everything but her own personal ambitions. With this group assembled awaiting word of their mother's death, the theatrical atmosphere was decidedly icebound.

Comedy was supplied in major part by Jimmy Nelson as a squirmy youngster and by Margaret Nelson as Hannah, the household slavey whose acting was a scream and whose getup was a nightmare.

Dave Watson, as Judge Bradford, the village squire, gave dignity to an important role as did also Clyde Strassler, as the officiating doctor. Bill McKenzie acted well the part of a town marshall who approached his duties with timidity.

The setting was also very effective, the suggestion of a chilly room being brought by the frequent opening of a stove door from which a feeble light glowed half heartedly.

The auditorium was practically filled.

Newberry Man In Minor Motor Spill

Locking of the car's front wheel on slippery pavement is blamed for an accident to the car of Ken Addington, of Newberry Thursday afternoon.

The accident occurred while he was driving through the village of Gulliver, the car leaving the road and turning over. Addington received only minor bruises and damage to the car was not serious.

FAMED MUSIC GROUP COMING

City Gives Enthusiastic Support To Concert

Whole hearted, and in many instances enthusiastic support of the local effort to bring to the city some of the country's finest musical talent, is reported by a local committee which made a canvass of the business district of Manistique several days of this week in promoting ticket sales to the concert to be given here on the evening of Wednesday, May 19.

Practically every business house in town made purchases of tickets and more often than not those contacted expressed themselves as wishing for a long time that something like this would turn up.

Clint Leonard, one of the local committee, explained that while the primary objective of this solicitation is to make expenses on this engagement (and the expenses are heavy) the support of this entertainment will be taken as an indication of the community's wish to have something more on the same order next season.

The Chicago String Ensemble, composed of string musicians with the Chicago Symphony orchestra is rated as one of the top quality musical organizations in the country. With the ensemble as soloist Is Rosaline Nadell, mezzo-soprano of operatic fame.

Tickets are available at Manistique high school, Leonard's Barber shop and Martin Insurance Agency.

City Dartball League Winner To Get Trophy

The trophy for the winning team in the tournament held recently by the City Dartball League has been received and will be awarded to the winning team of Zion Lutheran church at the meeting of Lutheran Brotherhood on Tuesday, May 11, at 8:00 p. m., at the church. C. J. Janson, president, and Carl Olson are also arranging other special features for this meeting, including selections by the high school faculty male quartet. Rev. G. A. Herbert, Reuben Larson and John B. Nessman will be hosts for the evening.

Will Present Special Mothers Day Music

At the Mother's Day service at the First Methodist church, James Moon will sing two special Mothers' Day numbers. This will be Mr. Moon's farewell, as he and Mrs. Moon are moving to Lake Orion in a few days.

About one-fifth of all U. S. capital expenditures are made for transport.

Let Mother's Day Be Bright and Cheerful

Tomorrow is Mother's Day. If your mother is among the living, thank God for the blessing and do all you can to make this day in her honor a bright and a happy one. Those of us to whom mother is but a sainted memory will do well to keep her more in our thoughts and record the happiness that she showered upon us. But above all, let Mother's Day be bright and cheerful. Mother was that way, you know.

"You Can Tell Right Away It's a McCORMICK-DEERING . . .
. . . IT TURNS SO EASILY!"

McCormick-Deering Cream Separators have always been known for their ability to turn with very little effort . . . and now advanced engineering changes have made this an even easier job. On models of 500 and 750 lbs. capacity, crank speed RPMs have been increased from 48 to 60; less force is required than before for hand-cranking.

Of course, easy turning is only one outstanding feature of the McCormick-Deering line. Each of the four sizes gives you stainless steel construction for low bacteria count and easy cleaning . . . close skimming to a trace . . . sturdy construction. See the McCormick-Deering on display here now.

Highland Golf Club Has That 'New Look' For '48

What with the installation of picture windows on the south side of the clubhouse, the Highland Golf club of Escanaba has taken on a distinct "new look" for the 1948 season.

In addition to the attractive picture windows which add immeasureably to the pleasing appearance of the golf clubhouse off US-41 east of the city, the entire course has been given a once over. Tees, greens and fairways have been touched up, and the well has been redrilled to assure a better flow of water for the course. The interior of the clubhouse also has been refurnished.

Highland Golf club officials and members are particularly pleased with the report of Professor James Tyson of the soil department of Michigan State college. He is the man who addressed 44 Upper Peninsula golf professionals, greenskeepers and chairmen and members of 17 U. P. golf clubs here a week ago.

Tyson said the consistency of the soil on Highland's greens is "perfect."

Twilight league play will get underway next Tuesday afternoon and evening, and plans also are underway for many inter-club matches this season.

Committeemen chairmen and members announced yesterday by Hazen H. Hengesh, president of the club, are as follows:

Grounds—George Walter, chairman; Ed Martinson, Sid Lambert, John Cass, Carl Friets, Joe Kroll, Tom McMeekan, Elmer Swanson, Sr., John Bartel, Elmer Bessonen.

Tournament—Stanley Ostman, man, chairman; Ed Martinson, co-chairman; John Milkovich, Gunnar Nelson, Vial Smith, Frank Raack, George Grenholm, Carl E. Johnson, Ernest Flath.

House—Nick Deviley, Edmond Hengesh, George Milkovich, Roger Moras, Max Saums, Ed Schwartz.

Publicity—Stanley Ostman, Ed Martenson, Bud Stade.

Bark River Opens Tri-County Slate At Home Sunday

Bark River, May 8—The Bark River baseball club managed by Clarence "Huntz" Klieman will open its Tri-County Baseball league schedule by opposing Loretta here Sunday afternoon.

Kleiman succeeds Russ Simmons as manager. The latter will remain with the club.

With a fine group of prospects, Manager Klieman expects to make a good showing in the Tri-County. Veterans of last year's team back are Ben Klieman, Leo Knauf, Louis Derocher, Lloyd A. Olson, Nick Brayak, Robert Douglas.

Newcomers are Phil Norman, Art Johnson, Glenn Johnson, Rhineold Bittner, Ed Porath, Frank Selvage, John Sundquist.

The opening battery for the home five will be B. Klieman or Nick Brayak hurling and either Knauff or Bittner behind the plate.

Professional Boxing Returns to Chicago After Baroudi Death

Chicago, May 8 (AP) — Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati, brought professional boxing back to Chicago stadium after a 77-day hiatus last night and the ranking challenger for Gus Lesnevitch's light heavyweight title did it with a flourish.

Charles knocked out Elmer (Violent) Ray, Hastings, Fla., in the ninth round of their scheduled 10-round battle. The Ohioan, outweighed 17 pounds, floored Ray with a right to the chin two minutes and 43 seconds after the round opened.

Charles weighed 175 pounds to 192 for his opponent.

The bout was the first professional match in Chicago stadium since Sam Baroudi, Akron, O., lightheavyweight, died without regaining consciousness six hours after being knocked out by Charles last February.

The card drew 9,319 spectators and a $42,!703 gate.

Charles pledged $5,000 of his purse to Baroudi's parents while promoters Irving Schoenwald, Jack Begun and Jack Hurley donated another $5,000.

Fred, Hal To Work Today After Tiger Washout Yesterday

New York, May 8 (AP) — Hal Newhouser, shelled off the mound in the first inning of his last start Thursday in Boston, came right back for another try here today as the Detroit Tigers and New York Yankees scheduled a doubleheader to make up yesterday's washout.

Manager Steve O'Neill of the Tigers named Newhouser to pitch the second game of the twin bill. Freddie Hutchinson, rained out of his regular turn yesterday, was in line to work the opener. Manager Bucky Harris of the Yanks countered with Lefty Ed Lopat and Righthander Vic Raschi.

Newhouser, who has finished only one of his four starting assignments this season, faced just six batsmen in the opening inning of Thursday's game in Boston. Five of them hit safely and three scored before Hal White came on to save the Tigers an 8 to 3 victory, behind his mates' hitting rally.

Meanwhile, Dick Wakefield and O'Neill agreed there's "plenty of baseball" left in the 27-year-old outfielder.

Despite a batting slump and rumors that Wakefield is up for trade, they both think Dick still can be very valuable to the Detroit club.

"I haven't given up faith in Dick," O'Neill said yesterday when asked about the report that club officials were asking waivers on the tall player. "Wakefield will be on the Detroit roster for years to come."

Nahma

P. T. A. Meeting

Nahma, Mich.,—The final meeting of the Parent Teachers Association for this year will be held at the school next Tuesday evening. Miss Olive McClinchey, who was the unit's delegate to the convention held in Bay City recently will give a report on the convention. Officers for next year who were elected last month, will be installed. Serving on the lunch committee are: chairman, Mrs Felix Cayemberg, Mrs. Emma Goodall, Felix Cayemberg and Mr. Anderson.

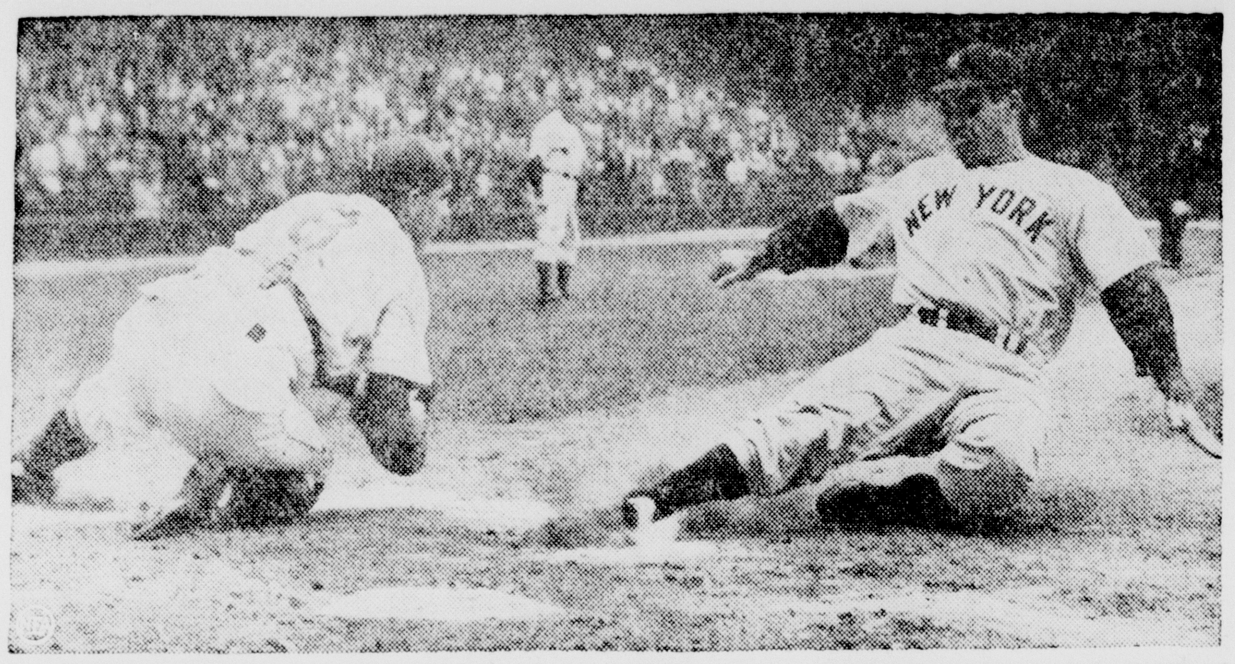
Altar Society

Mrs. William Mercier was hostess when the members of the St. Anne's Altar Society met in the club room at the Civic Center last Tuesday. After the business session, cards were played with Mrs. Fred Popour hold high in 500 and Mrs. Homer Beauchamp high in bridge. Mrs. Clyde Tobin resigned from her office as secretary and the office will be filled until the fall election by Mrs. William Mercier. Mrs. Fred Olmstead will serve as hostess for the June meeting.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Ira Bannister was pleasantly surprised by the members of her birthday club at the George Belongie home last Tuesday. The evening was spent playing 500 with Mrs. Bannister holding high and Mrs. Clarence Menary low score. Lunch was served at a table which was centered by a lovely cake trimmed with pink and green.

At the party were: Mesdames Antone Deloria, Melvin Druding, Clarence Menary, Ira Bannister, George Belongie, Wilfred Willette, Myron Moore and Francis Turek.



GOOD AS NEW — Nothing that has happened thus far pleased the Yankees more than Charlie Keller sprinting from first and hitting the dirt to score behind Tommy Henrich on Yogi Berra's double in a three-run burst in the first inning against the Athletics at Shibe Park. The feat further demonstrated that the slugging outfielder is definitely back in his old form after his operation. The catcher is Buddy Rosar.

May 30 Added to Central Schedule

The schedule for Sunday, May 30, was inadvertently omitted from the 1948 season schedule of the new Central Baseball league published on this page yesterday. Fans are advised to clip the following schedule for May 30 and add it to the season's slate. No other changes are necessary

Games on tap Sunday, May 30, are:

Seney at Grand Marais.
Gulliver at Naubinway.
Gould City at Manistique.

LEMON'S RECORD BEATS FELLER'S

And He's Hitting .533; Eight Out Of 15

(By The Associated Press)

Bob Lemon is forcing Bobby Feller to take a back seat in the Cleveland wigwam. The converted infielder-outfielder with three wins in four starts—tops rapid Robert in wins, complete games and even in strikeouts.

You probably could get at least 2 to 1 that Feller will wind up the season with more of each than Lemon who is starting his second season as a full fledged pitcher. Lemon, however, is not to be shrugged off as a spring phenomenon.

Last night Lemon shut out Washington with four hits, 8-0, to lift the tribe into second place, a half game behind Philadelphia.

In addition to his pitching, Lemon is hitting .533 with eight hits in 15 at bats, including two home runs.

Cleveland-Washington was the only game in the American League yesterday. Rain washed out the Detroit at New York, Chicago at Philadelphia and St. Louis at Boston dates. It also forced postponement of the New York at Pittsburgh night game in the National.

Cincinnati suffered a severe blow when it lost the services of Ewell Blackwell, for an indefinite period. The Reds' elongated pitching ace injured his right shoulder and left the ball game in the sixth inning. An x-ray examination today will determine the extent of the injury.

Blackwell, who has failed to go the route in four of his five starts, was charged with the loss as Boston's Bill Voiselle eked out a 4-3 edge for his third straight win.

Brooklyn made use of 14 walks by Chicago pitchers to outlast the Cubs, 9-5 in a game that dragged through three hours and 36 minutes.

The St. Louis Cardinals subdued the Philadelphia Phils, 7-4, in a night game for Howie Pollet's first win in three starts.

Sports Mirror

Today a year ago—National league president Ford Frick disclosed that a threatened strike by St. Louis Cardinals against use of Negro Jackie Robinson by Brooklyn had been averted.

Three years ago—Sports events were cancelled as war in Europe ended.

Five years ago—Court Fleet won the Preakness at Pimlico by eight lengths over Blue Swords.

Ten years ago—Carl Hubbell won his fourth game of the season, beating Chicago 4-2, with Mel Ott's two homers accounting for all New York runs.

BOBBY IS MAD

New Rochelle, N. Y., May 8 (AP) —Bobby Locke, who is the greatest—if not the only—golfer ever to come out of South Africa, is hitting each shot even a little crisper than usual in the Goodall Round Robin tournament here. Bobby is sore. He has been banned from playing in the Professional Golfers' Association championship this summer at St. Louis.

GIRLS GASSED

Royal Oak (AP)—Five Royal Oak high school girls were overcome by gas fumes Thursday in their home economics classroom. Firemen rushed an inhalator to the school and revived them. The trouble was traced to a leaky pipe in the schoolroom stove.

Weekend hodge podge:

• • •

Every picture we have seen of Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis since he returned from gay Paree, he has looked like a wet dish rag . . . Didn't the guy get any sleep over there?

* * *

Which reminds us of a story. Joe Blow was a fighter of fair sorts, but in this particular melee, Joe was getting the tar beat out of him. He knew it, but he couldn't convince his seconds.

• • •

Every time he'd return to his corner, they'd screech out words of encouragement: "You're doin' fine, Joe——fine! He hasn't laid a glove on you."

* * *

After each round, Joe would stumble back to his corner badly bruised, battered and bloody.

• • •

"Swell, Joe, swell! He can't touch you. He hasn't laid a glove on you yet."

• • •

This went on for about eight rounds, with increasingly touching words of encouragement. "The guy hasn't been near you, Joe. You got him going. He hasn't hit you yet."

Finally, in desperation, Joe blurted out through bloody lips:

"Hasn't laid a glove on me yet, eh?

"Well, then, ya better keep ya' eyes on the referee, buddy, because somebody's knocking the hell out of me out there!"

Alex Jolly, First Golf Pro At Menominee, Dies

The man who introduced plus fours to Menominee and Marinette and helped take the game of golf away from the few and give it to the many is dead.

He was Alex H. Jolly, former golf professional at Riverside Country and North Shore Golf clubs, who died suddenly Wednesday in Nogales, Ariz., of a heart attack. He was 65.

Until Mr. Jolly arrived in 1916, golf was an exclusive pastime in the Twin Cities. There was only one club, Riverside, which had been formed around the turn of the century.

But the club prospered. So much that in 1916, it hired a full time professional and caddy master, and Mr. Jolly was lured away from a post with a Chicago Golf club.

With the Highland accent of his native Scotland in his speech and his plus fours (all well dressed golfers wore them in those days) Mr. Jolly gave Riverside a true golf flavor.

Mr. Jolly lived in Menominee for 22 years and in the early thirties shifted his allegiance to North Shore Golf club which had been newly organized. He left Menominee about 10 years ago, moving to Douglas, Ariz., to assume charge of a golf club in that city. The Jollys moved to Nogales a few months ago.

Mr. Jolly was born July 15, 1882 in St. Andrews, Scotland. He was active in civic affairs while residing here and was a member of the Menominee lodge, No. 269, F. & A. M., the Menominee Chapter and Commandery. He is survived by his wife and son, Alex Jolly jr.

Funeral services were held in Douglas Saturday at 4 p. m. and the body will be sent to Menominee for interment in Riverside cemetery. Mrs. Jolly and her son will motor from Douglas to Menominee. The body will be taken to the Roy Cadieu mortuary upon arrival early next week.

Baseball Stars Of Yesterday

By the Associated Press

Batting, Preston Ward, Dodgers —His triple with the bases loaded broke a 5-5 tie to give Brooklyn 9-5 edge over Cubs.

Pitching, Bob Lemon, Indians —Blanked Washington with four hits, 8-0.

SHOOT LIFE OF RUTH

New York, May 8 (AP)—Several shots for the forthcoming motion picture on the life of Babe Ruth will be filmed at Yankee stadium tomorrow prior to the New York-Chicago game. Actor Bill Bendix is playing Ruth in the movie.

5 STRAIGHT FOR MSC

East Lansing, May 8 (AP)—The Michigan State tennis team boasted five straight victories today after a 6 to 2 win over Illinois. The two teams, playing in 30-degree temperatures yesterday, agreed to call off the final doubles match after the Spartans had scored victories in three singles and two doubles pairings.

200 IN 19.6

Appleton, Wis., May 8 (AP)—Leroy Collins, 17 year old Green Bay East senior, ran the 200 yard dash in 19.6 seconds yesterday, .8 faster than the state high school record. Collins was pushed by a strong wind.

COMIC OPERA BASEBALL

Chicago, May 8 (AP)—The comic-opera brand—was served up for 3 hours and 36 minutes yesterday to 7,464 chilled fans in Wrigley field at the end of which the Brooklyn Dodgers emerged with a 9 to 5 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

BADGERS PUNCH IRISH

Madison, Wis., May 8 (AP)—Righthander Jim Lawrence of Wisconsin held Notre Dame to three hits last night as the Badgers won the first of a two-game series, 3-1, before 2,000.

Harvie Ward Steps Up Among Golf Amateurs

By Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor

New York (NEA) — Executive secretary Joseph C. Dey, Jr., of the United States Golf Association had never heard of Harvie Ward until he qualified for the National Amateur last summer.

Then Ward's consecutive 70s over a fine Asheville, N. C., course made Joe Dey curious to see the young man.

And when Dey got a look at the present North Carolina junior at Pebble Beach, he immediately singled him out as one of the country's most promising amateurs.

The better amateurs recognized Ward, now 22, for just what he is when the Tarboro lad reached the quarter-finals of the National Amateur of 1947, when he turned out to be one of the last eight of a starting field of 1048.

But it was not until he beat a crack field in the North-South Amateur the other day, that Ward attracted national attention, took his rightful place in the headlines with the top hands—Willie Turnesa, Skee Riegel, Bud Ward Frank Stranahan, Dick Chapman and the rest.

Ward, the son of a pharmacist and studying to be one, started winning North and South Carolina junior championships in 1941 when he was medalist with a 71.

Even then the slender built, good-looking Tar Heel with the crinkly, sandy-colored hair had a terrific wallop with his woods that frightened the other boys.

This probably did his heart good, because a mastoid operation as a kid kept him from playing football and other contact games, although he played second base in baseball in high school.

Ward's lowest 18-hole round is a 62, made over his home course, Tarboro's Hilma, when he was 17. It is a record that still stands.

Ward's schooling and golf were interrupted in 1944 by the war. He spent two-and-a-half years in khaki.

The youngster attributes his success to a great degree to Palmer Maples, the Rocky Mount County club professional who has helped him since he was a shaver, and to whom he ofen turns for advice.

When Ward was discharged from the Army as a T/Sgt., Maples advised him to revert to a more upright swing.

Strange as it may seem, Ward did not qualify for last year's Southern Conference tournament. He figured a 76-78—154 over Winston-Salem's tricky Old Town course to rank fifth among his teammates.

This incident perhaps did more to turn Ward's thoughts toward the serious side of golf than anything else. He had been counted on and boosted by the press as an individual favorite. He immediately began to sharpen his game.

Ward's performance in the National Amateur last summer earned him an invitation to the Augusta Masters this spring, and then came the North-South Amateur, which he bagged with the poise of a veteran.

Ward pulled his first major upset on the fourth trip when he shaded former national amateur champion Dick Chapman, 2 and 1. Chapman resides at Pinehurst, is on intimate terms with every blade of grass on the number two layout at the North Carolina resort.

In the 36-hole final, Ward had a one-up advantage on Frank Stranahan at the 17th, and held onto it. And the Toledo spark plug heir tours with the professionals.

Ward's putting against Muscles Stranahan was the finest of his young career. He guesses that the first round against Stranahan was the best of his life, is sure that his putting was the slickest.

He had 18 one - putt greens against Stranahan, nine each trip. In eight rounds in the North-South, he was under par every trip save the last 18, when he slipped to one above the regulation 72.

Ward putted with an old Calamity Jane model, the kind Bobby Jones used. He found the weapon where he had stuck it away in the locker room of Tarboro's Hilma Club eight years ago, when he was 14.

Ward will take dead aim at this year's National Amateur at the Memphis Country Club, Aug. 30-Sept. 4.

He is the newest big name in amateur golf.

City Softball Loop Practice Schedule Opens Next Week

The Escanaba softball season will open next week with 14 teams swinging into action in practice games at Ludington and Royce Park diamonds.

The deadline for entering either the American or National leagues has been extended to May 12 and anyone planning to enter a team must pay the $13 entry fee for the first half to any one of the following officials: George Grenholm, Reno Beck, Paul Vardigan, Earl Haddie, Cliff Beaudin, sr., Walter Brown, Bill Doucette, or Homer LaCosse.

Next week's schedule of practice games and umpire assignments follow:

Monday—Merchants vs. K. of C. at Royce Park, Ranguette.

Tuesday — Harnischfeger vs. Northland Stores at Royce Park, LeCaptain. V.F.W. vs. Clairmonts at Ludington Park, Gardner.

Wednesday — Paper Mill vs. People's Bar at Royce Park, Brown.

Thursday—Taverns vs. Delta Hardware at Royce Park, Berrigan; Larmays vs. White Birch at Flat Rock, Sharkey. National Guard vs. Birds Eye at Ludington Park, Brown.

Manistique Will Have Ball Teams In Two Leagues

Manistique, May 8—Manistigue will be represented in two leagues of the area, a team representing this city having been entered in the Central league which will be made up of teams from Gulliver, Gould City, Grand Marais, Rexton, Curtis, Blaney, Engadine and Manistique.

Formation of this league and arrangement of schedules was made at a meeting at Gould City Thursday evening, and the Manistique team will play its first game against Gulliver Sunday afternoon.

The local aggregation will be made up of youths who are showing talent and are destined for tougher competition as they become more experienced.

Schedules will be so arranged that there will be a home game in Manistique nearly every Sunday with the "Red Birds", as the Central league team will be known, alternating with the Cardnals, who play with the Rainbow league.

BIRMINGHAM WINS

Mt. Pleasant, Mich., May 8 (AP) —Birmingham high school ruled the Class B Central Michigan college relays Friday, while the Michigan School for the Deaf took top honors in Class D. Birmingham showed unusual strength to mark up 63½ points and finish far ahead of the Greenville high's 46½. Alma, last year's winner was third with 42.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary La Marche, who passed away two years ago, May 9, 1946.

The dearest mother a world could hold,
A cherished smile, a heart of gold,
Those who knew her all will know,
How much we lost two years ago.
The blow was hard, the shock severe,
We never thought her death so near.
Only those who loved can tell,
The pain of parting without farewell.

Sadly missed by HER CHILDREN.

ASK STATE TO IMPROVE M-35

Rock Delegation Confers With Road Commission

The improvement of Highway M-35 in Delta county, and particularly that section between Perkins and Trombley, will be requested by representatives of the community of Rock, with the backing of the Delta county road commission.

The Rock delegation conferred with the road commission at the commission's meeting today, and was assured that the commission will assist in directing the attention of State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zigler to the necessity for improvements to the highway.

Also requested, and taken under consideration by the road commission, was a request of the delegation that county roads H-29, H-34, and H-25 be completed in the Rock area. The roads were partialy completed under a federal works program some years ago, and would if completed provide desirable extensions of the county road system, according to J. T. Sharpensteen, county road superintendent-engineer.

The commission also met with Harry Buchman of Rapid River, who sought permission to draw water from a county-owned well at the Dutch Mill. A request by Buchman to rent a county road grader for use in improving the Rapid River baseball field was approved. The work will take a couple days.

Bids All Rejected For Federal Power Project At Sault

Detroit, May 8 (AP)—The Detroit district of the Army Corps of Engineers announced today that all bids have been rejected for the last and largest contract on the multi-million dollar hydroelectric power plant on the St. Mary's Falls Canal at Sault Ste. Marie.

Col. A. Riani, Detroit district engineer, said an advance notice of readvertising for new bids for 14,000-kilowatt project is being issued.

The rejected bids were opened April 26.

Some changes are contemplated in the specifications, Col. Riani said. Excavation and construction work will be separated as far as possible. The contractor also will be furnished with certain materials and equipment, including hydraulic gates, gate hoists, cement and crib dam timber.

The revised specifications are expected to be ready about June 10 with the new bid opening set for about July 15.

Storms Face First China Legislature In Last 2000 Years

Nanking, May 8 (AP)—China's first elected legislature in 2,000 years opened today amidst gathering economic and political storms.

Absent were minority party delegates who are boycotting the Kuomintang (government party) dominated legislature. Only 370 of the 773 elected delegates attended. President Chiang Kai-shek did not even bother to drop in on the lawmakers although he had been invited to speak.

Premier Chang Chun, meantime, wrestled with the problem of forming a new cabinet. His secretary Feng Fei confirmed a previous report that Chang would be the country's first constitutional premier.

Obituary

PAUL SATTEM

Funeral services for Paul Sattem, whose body was returned from the Canal Zone for reburial were held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Immanuel Lutheran church, Rev. L. R. Lund officiating. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery.

During the service C. Arthur Anderson sang "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult" and "God's Way Is the Best Way." Eunice Holmes was accompanist.

Pallbearers were William Kasbohm, Ed Kositzky, Wesley Hansen, Harold Finman, Arthur Carlson and Frank Pascal.

Lt. Robert Sattem of Greensville, S. C., Mrs. Raymond Jahnke of Rhinelander, Wis., Mrs. N. O. Hanner of St. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Nelson of Detroit were among those at the services.

MRS. C. U. WOOLPERT

Final rites for Mrs. C. U. Woolpert, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Dunnigan in Lansing, were held this afternoon at the Anderson funeral home chapel with Rev. Otto H. Steen of the First Methodist church officiating. Burial was in Lakeview cemetery.

Pallbearers were Jerry Jerow, Walter Hansen, C. Emery Snyder, J. P. Ness, Ted Baldwin and Charles N. Wood.

Attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Dunnigan of Lansing and A. M. Halpin, of Rochester, N. Y.

Hawaiian Statehood Held Up In Senate

Washington, May 8 (AP)—The Senate Insular Affairs committee voted today 7 to 5 to defer action at this time on Hawaii's application for statehood.

The motion to defer action on a subcommittee report recommending that the territory become the 49th state was offered by Senator Millikin (D-Colo). The motion has the effect of sidetracking the Hawaiian statehood measure for this session of Congress.

The statehood measure, already passed by the House, received a major setback yesterday when the Senate Repubilcan policy committee failed to put it on a list of legislation for priority action at this session.

Postal Clerk Held For Stealing Mail

Milwaukee, May 8 (AP)—George J. Koehler, a post office clerk here for 25 years, was found guilty in Federal court yesterday of four counts of secreting mail matter and two charges of opening letters.

Federal Judge F. Ryan Duffy dismissed five counts of an indictment charging embezzlement and a third count of opening a letter. Koehler was dismissed from the postal service in January, 1946.

Judge Duffy deferred sentence pending further investigation.

WHITE HOUSE TRIES TO HEAD OFF WALKOUT

eral control the government could apply for a court injunction to stop the threatened strike. It did that in 1946 to stop a coal strike called by John L. Lewis.

But seizure still would leave Mr. Truman with the problem of an unsettled labor dispute. That would have to be solved before the industry could be turned back to its owners.

On this score, there was a possibility that if the seizure occurs Mr. Truman might call back a factfinding board headed by William E. Leiserson to "clarify" its recent report.

The board recommended a 15½ cent hourly pay boost for the three unions involved. the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Enginemen, and Switchmen,

That was the same pay raise accepted last Fall by 17 other rail brotherhoods but the three refused it as inadequate.

However, a number of proposed changes in rail operating rules desired by the three brotherhoods were discussed in Leiserson's report.

These included (1) time-and-a half pay for workers for Sunday and holiday work (they get straight time pay now) and (2) pay for time spent on the job before and after train runs (they get paid now only for time spent on the run).

It was indicated that these or other rules changes could be the basis for a settlement. It was hardly expected that the industry's wage increase pattern would be disturbed.

Woodbine Places Navigation Aids

The U. S. Coast Guard cutter "Woodbine", captained by Commander W. B. Millington, today loaded buoys from the Reiss coal company dock preparatory to placing them in northern Green bay waters as aids to navigation.

The buoys have been stored for the winter on the dock and this spring were painted and repaired for the season. They will be placed to mark shoals, channels and other navigation hazards and routes in Green bay waters.

State Bans Use Of Dealer Plates By Car Salesmen

Lansing, May 8 (AP)—Car dealers must buy personal licenses and pay the sales tax on autos they use as demonstrators, Attorney General Eugene F. Black held Friday.

In an opinion to the state revenue department Black said the use of dealers' license plates on demonstrators was "plainly unlawful" and "one of the prevalent means by which unscrupulous dealers have continuously evaded sales taxation."

Dealers plates, Black said, are legalized only for cars in transit or for delivery purposes.

As soon as a dealer places an auto in use as a demonstrator, Black said, he must buy a license for it in his own name and pay the sales tax on it.

Black said that audits of dealers in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Bay City indicated that each dealer had an average of 15 cars listed as demonstrators, but which were being used for the private purposes of the dealer orq his salesmen.

EARLY START ESSENTIAL ON BIG AIR FORCE

dering the planes. It has its plans for the 70 groups ready.

And this is where you have to look at a few figures to see what all this means.

When the U. S. Air Force was at its peak in World War II, it had 243 groups, or a total of about 40,000 combat planes.

Now it has 55 groups, with a total of 5,500 combat planes in active service and 7,500 in storage.

The 70 groups will call for 6,869 active combat planes and 8,100 in storage.

That doesn't just mean increasing the 5,500 planes in the 55 groups to 6,869 in 70 groups.

Planes Get Obsolete

Year by year the older planes will have to be replaced to give this country the most up-to-date Air Force in the world.

So, although the Air Force this year will order 2,727 planes, year after year between now and 1952 —and year after year beyond that —it will have to keep on ordering thousands of planes.

This may give an idea of why the Air Force wants all those planes:

It aims at making the Air Force jet-propelled as soon as possible, except in the case of the heaviest bombers.

Right now it has some experimental models of the B36, the heaviest bomber, which is designed to fly 10,000 miles but hasn't so far. The Air Force has ordered 95 of the B36's.

The Air Force has a lot of the latest propellor-type fighter planes. In time many of these will be replaced by jet-fighters.

The B29 was the biggest bomber the Air Force had in the war. (It still has 2,200 of them).

They'll be replaced in time by an improved propellor-type model, called the B50.

The B29 can make a 4,600 mile trip with a five-ton bombload. The B50 can do 6,000 miles with the same load.

Black May Run Against Sigler

cal conclusion is that Sigler is trying to woo Groesbeck from encouraging Black to run for governor.

Sigler's recent buttering up of Harry S. Troy, Detroit police commissioner, also is regarded as a gesture to the Groesbeck camp.

The interest with which politicians talk about a Sigler-Black contest lies in the fact that Black is regarded as likely to expose a lot of skeletons in the Sigler administration closet.

Campaign Against Dogs at Large in City Is Fruitful

The Escanaba police department's campaign against dogs is getting results. Dog owners are flocking into the police station to license their animals and the number of dogs running at large, licensed or otherwise, is sharply reduced.

The dog catchers have rounded up a number of animals the past few days and have impounded them in a corral near the city gas plant. Dogs not redeemed by their owners within 48 hours are destroyed.

A number of dogs have already been destroyed at the request of their owners in the past several days.

The fees for dog licenses are $1 for male and unsexed dogs, $2 for females.

First Methodists Dedicate Church Organ On Sunday

Special dedication services for the rebuilt organ and newly-installed chimes in Escanaba First Methodist church will be held tomorrow at 10:45 in the church. The congregation of Bark River Methodist church will attend the services in a body.

C. J. Sawyer and C. E. Snyder will present the organ and chimes.

The program will open with an organ prelude in E flat major and the call to worship by the choir. Following the Hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy" and invocation, the First Methodist choir will sing the anthem, "Open My Eyes." A responsive reading, Gloria Patri, Scripture lesson and Pastoral prayer will precede an anthem, "Awakening Chorus" by the choir of Bark River Methodist church.

Miss Alice Cossette, music teacher, will describe the organ and chimes and Reverend Otto Steen will offer words of appreciation. Miss Irene Steen will play "Caprice" by R. Kinder, prior to the dedication services.

Spring Is Here To Stay; April Was Very Warm

That was snow that fell yesterday morning. Yes it was! But you needn't worry.

Spring, like the airplane and unlike the "new look", is here to stay.

The average temperature during April was 40.7, or 2.8 above normal, the average maximum being 48.1 compared with a normal of 45.5 and the average minimum being 33.3 compared with a normal of 30.4.

There was a trace of snow on five days in April, but not since April Fool's Day—and this is no kidding—has there been a trace of snow on the ground.

The official weather report for the month of April shows the prevailing wind was a southerly wind—that's always nice—and its greatest velocity was 34 miles an hour.

And when you stop to think that normally the prevailing wind in April is a northerly wind with a maximum velocity of 44 miles an hour, you can apprecite that it was right nice around here last month.

Although the highest velocity was 34 against a normal 44, the average velocity was 10.3, against a normal of 9.7.

It was a pleasant month compared with April, 1947, when the average temperature was 36.1—4.6 degrees lower than the average in April, 1948.
